DR. JAMES M. CUSHMAN,

OCULIST.

WOULD respectfully inform the community, that among quite a large number of unfortunate individuals of whom he has had occasion to treat for the various affections of the Eye, there has not as yet, in this section of the State, a case presented itself so obstinate, however long standing, and in the opinion of every distinguished surgeon, whom he has called to corroborate the diagnosis and affect a perfect cure. He, therefore, solicits at the hands of those who are thus unhappily afflicted, a portion of their patronage, their prayers for his success, and their attention to the following, to wit:

Chronic Inflammation of the Eyelids; or Sore Eyes,

of however long standing, can in most instances be effectually and permanently cured. Films, specs, &c., in many instances, can be entirely removed without surgical operation.

CATARACTS removed by any of the operations practiced in any portion of this country, or in any of the European Ophthalmic infirmaries.

STRABISMUS, commonly called SQUINTING, or Cross Eyes. This is a modern improvement in Ophthalmic Surgery, and perhaps there is no operation in the whole Catalogue of scientific modern surgery, that the operator can with more confidence recommend to the unfortunately afflicted than this. The benefits arising from a successful operation are two-fold. First, we expect to remove the cause of heavens being unsightly. Secondly, we expect where a weakness of sight exists, full power of vision will be restored in a few weeks, and where amaurosis is present, we expect a restoration of sight in a greater degree, but not in so short a period. Where cancer, cutaneous, phagedenic nycosis, or scirrhus palpebrarum exist, these affections also decrease in proportion as the centre of posterior homisphere increases in acuteness of sensation.

Dental Surgery.

Dr. C. will perform every necessary operation for the improvement and preservation of the teeth. He will insert any number of teeth mounted on gold plates; or on the fangs, so as to be permanent and useful to the wearer, and in no case to injure to the teeth to which they are attached.—He will cleanse and fill those that are in a state of decay, in most cases so as to render them permanent and useful. All operations warranted, and satisfactory references given, by calling on him at his office in the American.

THE CLOUDS.

Oh beautiful and calm they lie
On the soft bosom of the sky
Like a sweet infant lulled to rest
Upon its mother's gentle breast—
As fair and delicate their hue
As the young violet's modest blue;
How musing Fancy loves to stand
And mould them in her plastic hand!
Here, one a nymph's form assumes,
There glide pale spectres of the tombs
Along their shadowy path on high,
To the tribunal of the sky.
And God himself in awful state
Appears their presence to await.
Thus carried on from flight to flight
Eternity gleams on the sight.
Till the wide vault of heav'n becomes
The arena of the spirit's home.
But lo, yon dark and gloomy form!
It is the spirit of the storm
Upon the angry winds sent forth
From the chill regions of the North,
And the hoarse echo of his word
In the loud thunder now is heard;
The slumb'ring clouds forsake their rest
At the dark spirit's stern behest,
And gath'ring where the lightnings play
Along their gloom-embodied way,
Hang lowering o'er the sailor's head—
The pall that wraps his funeral bed;
And fa-m their dark and frowning folds
A mystic land the death-bell tolls.
Till the fierce billows catch the knell
The wild dirge of the dead to swell;
And the brave seaman seeks to rest
Alone, forgotten and unblest.
Nor has the landsman's watchful eye
Marks the ill omens of the sky,
Each sweeping cloud the harbinger
Of death and desolation near,
And rain, havoc, wild despair,
Spread thro' the trackless realms of air;
A thousand forms of vengeful wrath
Waste the wild forest's winding path,
And hear the engines of the tomb
Where nations rise, or deserts gloom,
Till on the wing of every gale
Come the wild shriek and dying wail.
So when the storms of human life
Sweep o'er the breast with passions rife,
No more the earth-bound spirit knows
The gentle angel of repose,
And innocence thus early dies
Like the mild beauty of the skies,
When the first tempest shrouds its light
And creeps it in a cayless night.
Oh, for a refuge from the storms
That fill the soul with dread alarms!
There sweet to shunless infancy.
To lay this body down—and die.

A SONG OF THE DEMOCRACY.

BY CHAS. G. WATTAY, M. D.

We came—we met with cruel shout—
No mild'ning Bacchal song—
No wild and frenzied cry rings out
Our serried ranks along.
But heart with heart and hand with hand
We onward press—we court the fight—
A bold—a true—a faithful band—
In Freedom's name—in Freedom's right.

We come—the weapons of the free
Are in each hand and bravely hand,
And falling none feel silently
They scorn corruption from the land.
Our leader we of pure have found
First in the fight and faithful ever;
With heart and hand we fully round
Our vow can prove a recreant never.

We come—and o'er us proudly waves
The banner that our fathers bore
To conquest or to patriot graves
When British minions thronged our shore.
Yes—faithful hearts now throng the round,
Thou banner of the brave and free;
With high resolve each heart is bound
To conquer—or to fall with thee.

We come—we come—a mighty throng
Full-pledged to Freedom's sacred cause,
Our hearts are true—our hands are strong—
We fight for equal rights and laws.
The heritage our fathers gave;
The holy price for which they bled,
Their sons shall guard—or gory grave
Shall close above each freeman's head.

Then proudly raise our standard high,
And ev'ry mountain—ev'ry glen—
Shall echo back our rallying cry,
And triumph crown our Cause again.
Yes—boldly be our banner flung,
And from let ev'ry freeman be,
Soon—soon shall leap from ev'ry tongue
The thrilling shout of Victory.

Harpersville, (N. Y.) May, 1844.

WHOM WE SHOULD WATCH.

If you ever hear a man on the corners of the streets preaching about morality, watch him closely—you will find him to be a villain in disguise.

If you hear a newspaper Editor croaking about the state of society in which he lives, you will find him one of the most dangerous members.

If you hear an editor publishing complimentary notices of himself, or communications, praising his exertions, set him down for a fool.

If you hear of a man making a great noise about going to church and whining about religion, you may take it for granted he is some infamous scamp, who does not pay his debts, and assumes the garb of religion to conceal his infamy. Religious people go to church and make no parade about it.

If you hear a fellow constantly bestowing public praise upon ladies and courting their sympathies, you may take it for granted he is a poor devil who is despised by men.

If you hear of an editor living in the habit of quoting bad French and bad Latin, set him down as not understanding even the English language.

A MISSISSIPPI WILD-CAT STORY.—The Pelibatchee Swamp, some twenty miles from Jackson, has, until the last year or two, been the resort of hunters from all the towns in its vicinity, for bear, panthers, wild-cats, deer, and turkies. About two years since, an old friend of mine—a rough swearing old cadger, with a real hickory face—visited the swamp in search of game. He had taken his station behind a log, lying at full length, with his head to the log, and his gun lay partly over it, to be in readiness for doing execution. I think I see old Daniel, now, with his persimmon face earnest with hope and expectation, applying the wing-bone of a turkey to his mouth, and at times bobbing up his head to see the effect of his deception. In the meanwhile a wild cat, prowling about in search of a repast off the same delicate game, was attracted by the call, which seemed to proceed from a turkey astray from the flock. He commenced a stealthy approach to the place from whence the call issued, and seeing a dark object moving and rising ever anon behind a log, the cat would crouch as the object rose, and renew its approach as it sank down, and so on, until he had obtained a position immediately behind the log which concealed P., who raising his head to look, was clapped on each side of his face by the cat, with teeth showing beautifully white an inch of his parked nose! The look the two gave each other was anything but affectionate. The horror and dismay of Uncle Daniel may be imagined, and some idea may be formed by you of the appearance of his countenance, by taking a good look at the engraving representing Terror and Horror, in "Lavater on Physiognomy." The cat was as much alarmed and surprised as Uncle Daniel, and had he waited, would have relaxed his hold and fled; but he sprang with such force as to jerk the cat several feet from the ground and tear its claws loose, leaving a furrow for every one of them the whole length of his face—and thus they parted, two uncongenial spirits, Uncle Daniel, without horse or gun, making such headway in one direction that it would have puzzled Boston in his great brush with Mariner, to have held his own; while the cat bolted in the opposite course, keeping nearly over the tops of the high canes which grow along the creek.

This was the last turkey-hunt my old friend D. F. ever took in that swamp, and he often swore to me that he would rather be hunted to death by his own goats (of which he had numbers,) than call turkies in a lonesome swamp.

A BEAR STORY.—I was very much pleased a few days since to hear the following anecdote related in illustrating the natural effects of that odious practice which many people have fallen into of frightening their children into obedience by placing before them some bugbear that never existed but in imagination. We think it will hit many good meaning, but deceived parents. An old lady was in the habit of telling her son—"John, if you do any more mischief, THE BEARS WILL FETCH YOU!" Being in pursuit of the cow one evening John came to the edge of a forest, and fearing to enter least his mother's saying should prove true, he paused and began to cry. A gentlemen who was passing by asked him why he wept. The lad informed him, and he in derision cried, "Pooh, there is not a bear in forty miles of here." Upon this the boy took courage & brot the cow. Transgressing the rules of his mother soon after, the threat was resorted to, but had lost its terror, and he very pertly replied, "Pooh mother, there is not a bear in forty miles of here, a man said so." The old lady now saw "the jig was up" and that she must create another scarecrow, so turning to the boy she observed, "Well John, if you do wrong again you will go to hell."

This was a new and strange thing to John, and he began to query with his mother as to the location, &c.; she proceeds with great gravity to depict its horrors, and tell of the awful torment that he will there undergo, when John with an arch look of suspicion exclaimed, "MOTHER, AIN'T THAT ANOTHER BEAR STORY?"

INAUGURATION AT ST. LOUIS.—The St. Louis Gazette of the 17th ult., says:

"The Mississippi is still rising. The Missouri and its tributaries, and, indeed, all the streams are full. The American bottom, opposite this city, is submerged, and impassable. The least at the new ferry has ceased her trips. Illinois town, opposite the city, is deluged. We were over last evening, and such a scene! But we have no space now for description. The water is higher than it was in 1836, and it is impossible to predict where or when it will cease rising. A few feet more will bring it to the threshhold of the warehouses on the landing. It will not rise so rapidly now, however, on this side, as before it was over its banks. The coast diseases results are apprehended to attend and succeed this inundation. The Illinois shore, opposite the mouth of the Missouri, we are informed, is falling in at a fearful rate. Additional rise from the upper Mississippi is expected.

AN UNREASONABLE PROPOSAL.—An Irish laborer, who was in the employ of an English gentleman residing in Ireland, was on one occasion about going to a fair, held annually at a neighbouring village, when his master endeavored to dissuade him from his design.

'You always,' said he, 'come back with a broken head; now, stay at home to-day, Darby, and I'll give you five shillings.'

'I'm forever and all obliged to your honor,' replied Darby; 'but does it stand to reason,' added he flourishing his shillelagh over his head, 'does it stand to reason, that I'd take five shillings for the bating I'm to get to-day?'

THE NIGHTMARE.—The Boston Cultivator tells a good story. It was that one of its subscribers was much troubled by the nightmare, and applied several remedies to be of fect, till his good lady asked him if he had paid for his newspaper! On going to see, he found that he was in arrears two years. He at once paid up and returned home and slept soundly for three or four nights, but fearing the trouble would come on again he went back to the office and paid for one year in advance. This has proved an effectual cure!

CULTIVATION OF FRUIT.

The following is an extract from a very excellent agricultural address, delivered in October last, by Rev. Charles B. Knudge, of Westborough, before the Agricultural Society of Westborough, and vicinity.

"But there is yet another source of profit to the agriculturist too often overlooked and neglected; I refer to the production of fruit. I refer to it now simply as a source of pecuniary profit, or a means of wealth. Good fruit is an article which never wants a market; and the demand will doubtless increase, for many years at least with the supply.—There is nothing, perhaps, produced with so little labor and expense, which, at any time, yields so abundant a reward. There is a single tree in this town, reared by the hand of one of our members, which, though not yet ten years old, produced the last year, four barrels of prime winter fruit. These were sold for not less than $1.50 per barrel, paying an interest at six per cent on $100. One hundred such trees might be set upon an acre of ground. The original cost of the trees we will suppose to be $100, or one dollar each, and the value of the land $100.—During the first ten years after their setting, we will suppose that the trees pay the annual interest on their original cost, together with the expence of cultivation, which is probably far below their actual yield. The land during this period, is equally valuable for cultivation as before the setting of the trees, and may reasonably be supposed to pay its own interest. In ten years, then, under proper management, we have one hundred trees in a bearing state like the one above referred to, which, with the land they cover, have cost $200. Now deducting the hundred per cent. from the yield of the single tree for unfruitful years, cause of unproductiveness, and $50 per annum for expense of cultivation, and $12 interest on the original cost, there remains a net profit of $138 per annum on single acre, which is equal to the interest at six per cent. of $2,300! Or in other words a single acre of land in this state is worth $2,500!

"Take another fact. I can adjoining town I have occasionally passed a row of quince trees set along by the garden wall, some six or eight rods in length.—These bushes for several years have been worth to the owner some $600 or $700; that is, they have paid an annual interest at six per cent. on that sum. More than six hundred trees of the same kind might be judiciously set upon an acre of ground, which yielding at the same rate would give the owner the pretty little sum of $1,200 per annum! But deducting one half for unfruitful trees, and half of the remainder for expense of cultivation and care of unproductiveness, and there remains still the handsome profit of $800 upon a single acre, or an interest at six per cent. on $5,000! If these estimates be sound, and I see no why they are not so, where, I ask, is the highway to wealth, if the agriculturist has not found it?"

TARIFF FACTS FROM THE BOOK.

The Fredericksburg Recorder gives the following facts, which all ought to be acquainted with:

The average exports of the United States, under the Protective tariff, for the nine years preceding the Compromise, were 87,399,945 dollars per annum.—While during the period of reduced and reducing duties, was 96,447,796; being a gain of 38,646,866 per year. Let farmers who make and sailors who carry produce, remember this.

The duty on the calicoes used by the rich is 30 per cent. Let the poor remember this.

The duty on flannels for the rich is but 40 per cent. on flannels for the poor 100 per cent.

The duty on "golden cambrics" is 26 per cent, on "stripe shaving" 6*b* per cent.

The duty on gold chains for farmers 70 per cent.

The duty on window glass ranges from 94 to 178 per cent. with an average of more than 150 per cent. Is not light heavily taxed?

Implements of husbandry are taxed from 75 to 150 per cent. so of every dollar paid by a farmer for such articles, nearly 50 cents are extorted from him, to enrich the already rich manufacturer.

Let farmers remember when they spend a dollar for farming utensils, that they pay 50 cents for the article itself—19 cents for the support of government, and 40 cents to clothe the rich beggars of the north. This is no fiction.

Raw iron has a duty of 112 per cent.—Who uses iron? or rather who does not use it? Let them remember they pay double its worth.

The duty on certain descriptions of cotton goods ranges from 60 to 150 per cent, making the article itself at least twice its net price.

Salt (we wish every one who uses salt to note this fact) is taxed 133 per cent extorting more than double its actual cost from the consumer, (and every person is such) in order to enable our salt boilers to make their yearly dividend of 20 per cent!

The duty on anvils is 70 per cent.—Let mechanics remember it.

The duty on iron in small bars, 240 per cent! One price for the article itself and 2 1-2 for the protection of the American manufacturer.

The duty on irons for tailors and hatters is 140 per cent. This is protecting mechanics!

The duty on iron wire is 230 per cent.

The rise in the price of Hardware has been 10 per cent. since last spring. Who pays it?

These are a few facts connected with the present tariff. More are forthcoming. Repeal is the word, and repeal is the remedy.

Poisoned by the Leaf of the Pie Plant.—The whole family of Mr. Havens, of Redford, were poisoned a few days since, in consequence of eating Rhubarb leaves boiled as greens, and it is feared that two of the children will not recover. The leaf of this plant of which the stalk is used for pies without danger, contains a considerable quantity of oxalic acid.—Jour. Com.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Senate of the United States:

In answer to the resolution of the Senate of the 13th instant, requesting to be informed "whether a messenger has been sent to Mexico with a view to obtain her consent to the treaty with Texas, and, if so, to communicate to the Senate a copy of the despatch or of which he is bearer, and a copy of the instructions given to said messenger; and also to inform the Senate within what time the said messenger is expected to return:"

I have to say, that no messenger has been sent to Mexico in order to obtain her assent to the treaty with Texas, it not being regarded by the Executive as in any degree requisite to obtain such consent in order (should the Senate ratify the treaty) to perfect the title of the United States to the territory thus acquired—the title to the same being full and perfect without the assent of any third Power. The Executive has negotiated with Texas as an independent Power of the world, long since recognised as such by the United States and other Powers, and as subordinate in all her rights of full sovereignty to no other power. A messenger has been despatched to our Minister at Mexico, as bearer of the despatch already communicated to the Senate, and which is to be found in the letter addressed to Mr. Green, and forms a part of the documents ordered confidentially to be printed for the use of the Senate. That despatch was dictated by a desire to preserve the peace of the two countries, by denying to Mexico all pretext for assuming a belligerent attitude to the U. States, as she had threatened to do in the event of the annexation of Texas to the U. States, by the despatch of her Government which was communicated by me to Congress at the opening of its present session. The messenger is expected to return before the 15th of June next, but he may be detained to a later day. The recently appointed Envoy from the United States to Mexico will be sent so soon as the final action is had on the question of Annexation, at which time, and not before, can his instructions be understandingly prepared. JOHN TYLER.

Washington, May 15, 1844.

THE BARGAIN.

The cousins appear to get quite 'ratty' when the Bargain of 1825, between Clay and Adams, is thrown up to them; they foam and fret, and are almost ready to fight their opponents, because they cannot disprove the charge. No wonder the cousins get in such a fever, for they well know that Clay was guilty of the damning act, selling himself for the purpose of securing the office of Secretary of State.

The Pennsylvanian on this subject, after stating its belief of the corrupt understanding between Adams and Clay, says: "And why do we believe it? Not because Beverly Carter or any other person said so; but because the fact was proved by the parties themselves. They did the deed and shared the spoil in the face of the whole world—Whether they wrote to each other, or winked at each other, in the arrangement of preliminaries, makes no difference. Mr. Clay and his friends knew that if their force was thrown for Mr. Adams, he would give them the desired appointment. They did so throw their force, and the said appointment was so given. Here was bargain and sale as clear as the light of the sun—a trade and a traffic—the price paid and the goods handed over. The thing admits not of argument or difference of opinion. Beverly Carter's retractions are not worth a rush. Can they affect the fact, the historical fact? There was the seller with the price in his hand, and here was the buyer, with the merchandize under his arm. You, I, and every one saw them.

Is more than this required? We think not; but if others are of a different mode of thinking more is easily attainable. Up to the time of this trade for office, Henry Clay and John Quincy Adams were bitter personal enemies, hating each other with the greatest intensity. It will scarcely be pretended, we should think that this was the reason for their coalition. Kentucky was hostile to Mr. Adams, preferring my body to him, and has instructed her representatives to vote for Andrew Jackson. Was this a sufficient reason for Clay's giving the Presidency to Mr. Adams? And what said Gen. Metcalf, Francis Johnson and David Trimble, Representatives of Kentucky, when bro't to a reckoning for having been, like Mr. Clay, so shamefully treacherous to the people of the State? Why they all declared that they voted for Adams to make Henry Clay Secretary of State—and Kentucky showed her sense of the matter by giving a large majority against an administration so corruptly formed, and aided in driving it from power.

Mr. Clay was treacherous beyond a peradventure, and treachery to gain an office, will scarcely induce a belief on the part of the observer, that the treachery was committed without a very distinct idea of what was to be the reward, especially as personal and political hostilities on either part had to be sunk, to secure the consummation of the deed."—Cecil Dem.

ROBERT DALE OWEN.—The Lowell Journal, speaking of Mr. Owen, of Indiana, and his colleague, Mr. Pettit, says that "Indiana ought to be ashamed of herself to send men of this stamp to Congress to make laws for the government of a Christian people." Of Mr. Pettit we know nothing, but we know that Mr. Owen is one of the most upright men in the world, and whatever may be his speculative tenets, we know that in practice he is, to say the least, to good a Christian as the editor of the Lowell Journal. No man is more esteemed in Congress than Robert Dale Owen, and no man is listened to with greater attention. His name is never mentioned in connection with any of the rowdy scenes that occasionally occur in the House. We hope to see so excellent a man in higher stations than he has yet occupied, believing that both his talents and his morals are of the most excellent order.—Concord Freeman.

EX-GOVERNORS.—The Tribune says that there were no less than six or eight ex governors among the Vice Presidents of the whig national convention. This is nothing strange, for the vote democrats have manufactured whig ex governors on a pretty extensive scale since 1840.—Buffalo Gazette.

DISCORD IN THE FEDERAL RANKS —EXPECTED BLOW UP.—The coon leaders are in a predicament. While watching with an intense interest, the efforts of a few men in Congress, who do not agree with Mr. Van Buren in the views taken in his letter in relation to Texas, to procure the nomination of some other man as the candidate of the democratic party, they seemed to have forgotten the situation of their own candidate, until the dissension in their own ranks became apparent even to the most casual observer.

The coons in the South are as deeply interested in the annexation of Texas, as are the Southern democrats. Mr. Clay's letter goes decidedly against the project, without the matter being able to give one good reason for the conclusions to which he arrived. Mr. Van Buren's letter, on the contrary, has settled at once and forever, the constitutional question which was raised against the admission of Texas, and he gives strong and convincing reasons why, in consequence of existing commercial relations, it would be wrong to admit that Republic at the present time, into the Union. Under those circumstances, what extreme folly it was, for whiggery to suppose that the democratic party could be divided and partially distracted on this question, without the same reasons operating to convulse whiggery to its very centre.

The demonstration of such day serves but to convince us that no outbreak may soon be expected from Southern whiggery, and we know the coons in this city fear that, if once made, the breach can never be reconciled.

In a few days, Mr. Chappell a distinguished member of Congress from Georgia, it is understood, will renounce and denounce Clay on account of his Texas letter, and this will be but the beginning of the end. Others will follow in rapid succession, and poor Clay country will find in the South but few worshippers.—Ohio Statesman.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

RANK "PIZEN."

"The principal objection," said one of the speakers at the whig meeting on Thursday night, "that we had to the nomination of Frelinghuysen, on the instant of his success, was, that his was a name difficult to rhyme about; but that was soon removed," remarked our orator, with most amiable sang froid, "for before we left Baltimore it had been variously set to tune, and was sung all over the city, and I will give you a specimen," said he:—

"Van Buren he will be rank pizen
To Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen!"

"Pahl pohl!" grunted an old coon right under the orator. "Oh! I beg your pardon," blundered the speaker, in most laughable confusion, "I mean,

"Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen
To Van Buren will be rank pizen."

But the mischief was done—the charm was off—the truth was told by mistake—the pizen circulated rapidly through the crowd, and the survivors of the hard cider era, like mad buffaloes in the tall grass, rolled out of the mass toward the "Tell Exchange," and the last we saw of them, they were

Pouring down rank pizen
To drown the name of Frelinghuysen!

We saw a farmer a day or two since who brought a load of oats to market, and disposed of them to a grocery store. In part payment he took some sugar. On pricing it he found that he was obliged to pay about three cents per pound more than he gave for the same quality a year ago, while he sold his oats for less than he received last spring. He could not ascertain, on inquiry, that the tariff had lessened the price of protected articles, or increased that of the products of his farm, as he had been accustomed to read on his whig papers. That man went home with a "flea in his ear," and on reflecting upon the matter will doubtless come to the conclusion that a few facts, and a little personal experience, is worth any quantity of the assertions of demagogues and politicians.—Buffalo Gazette.

BALTIMORE FEDERAL NOMINATION—The National Bank Convention at Baltimore have nominated Messrs. CLAY & FRELINGHUYSEN as their candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency.

It is said that Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN is an anti-duelist and anti gambler. Here we see the old game of 1840 revived. Then they had a TYLER, who was opposed to a Bank, for the purpose of "roping in" the anti-Bank meanjuwe they have taken up Frelinghuysen, a man who never fought a duel, and who don't know much about "poker," with the hope of catching the votes of the moral portion of community. You can't come it gentlemen! The last time you fooled the People was too recent.—Kalida Venture.

Democrats Remember.—That Henry Clay is the same man that defrauded Gen. Jackson out of the Presidency in 1824.

The same man that received as a reward for his treachery, an office worth $6,000 per annum;

The same man that wrote the challenge for Graves, and instigated the duel which lead to the death of Cilley;

The same man that challenged and shot at John Randolph, for "words spoken in debate," although the Constitution, which he had sworn to support, expressively prohibited it;

The same that proclaimed war, pestilence, and famine, as better for the country than the election of the patriarch Jackson.

SECTARIAN BIGOTRY.—We agree with a correspondent that "Sectarian Bigotry" has had the largest share in working out the dreadful calamity that has befallen a sister city. It is the duty of every citizen to discountenance this prosecuting spirit. Unless it be speedily allayed, no man can tell whose turn it may be next. The Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists; Presbyterians, Quakers, Universalists; or any other sect, may be singled out tomorrow, their churches burnt, houses pillaged, wives and children turned into the street, insulted and abused, their homes and their all a blazing heap of ruins, if this diabolical spirit of persecution is encouraged.—N. Y. Sun.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL

SATURDAY, JUNE 8, 1844.

FOR PRESIDENT

JAMES K. POLK, OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

GEORGE M. DALLAS, OF PENN.

To Correspondents.—"Vox Populi," we presume, will fully agree with us that in the present aspect of affairs, it is inexpedient to publish his communication.

[We have not received any papers containing a full account of the proceedings of the Democratic National Convention. Next week we hope to publish the proceedings at length.]

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Democratic National Convention assembled in Odd Fellows' Hall, Baltimore, on the 27th ult. On motion of Gen. Saunders, of N. C., Hendrick B. Wright, of Pa., was appointed Chairman pro tem. and Wm. F. Richie, of Va., Secretary. A committee of one from each State was appointed to report on the certificates of Delegates—Jesse D. Bright was appointed for Indiana. All the States answered to the call except South Carolina. Gen. Saunders moved that the rules and regulations of the Conventions of 1832 and 1835 be adopted for the government of this convention. This gave rise to considerable discussion; one of the rules required a majority of two-thirds of the whole number of votes to nominate the candidates; this was opposed by the friends of Mr. Van Buren, but was finally carried by a vote of 148 to 118—the Indiana delegates voting in the affirmative. The following gentlemen were appointed permanent officers of the convention:

President—Hendrick B. Wright, of Pa.

Vice Presidents—Stephen Emery, of Me., Henry Hubbard, N. H., Henry H. Childs, Mass., Luther B. Hunt, Vt., Olney Balfou, R. I., R. J. Ingersoll, Ct., Samuel Young, N. Y., Joseph Edsell, N. J., J. L. Dawson, Pa., James N. Sutton, Del., Wm. Frich, Md., Wm. H. Roane, Va., R. M. Saunders, N. C., J. W. Howard, Ga., B. G. Shields, Ala., Powhattan Ellis, Miss., Thos. J. Williams, La., Nicholas Schumacker, Ohio, Linn Boyd, Ky., Cave Johnson, Tenn., Ethan A. Brown, Ia., James Shaw, Ill., Robt. S. Gilson, Mi., J. Calhoun, Mo., Wm. H Fulton, Ark.

Secretaries—Wm. F. Richie, of Va., Thomas A. Mitchell, N. Y., George A. Fromme, N. J., Charles A. Bradford, Miss.

The number of delegates in attendance was 266, viz: from Maine 9, New Hampshire 6, Massachusetts 12, Vermont 6, Rhode Island 4, Connecticut 6, New York 36, New Jersey 7, Pennsylvania 26, Delaware 2, Maryland 8, Virginia 50, Georgia 10, Alabama 6, Mississippi 14, Louisiana 4, Tennessee 15, Kentucky 29, Ohio 23, Indiana 12, Illinois 9, Michigan 5, Missouri 8, Arkansas 3. Necessary for a choice 178.

The convention then proceeded to ballot for candidate for President, as follows:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th	5th	6th	7th
Van Buren,	146	127	121	111	103	101	99
Cass,	83	94	92	105	107	116	123
Johnson,	22	33	33	32	29	23	21
Buchanan,	4	9	11	17	26	25	22

On the first four ballots Mr. Van Buren received three votes of the Indiana delegation and Gen. Cass 9; on the 5th, 6th and 7th ballots Mr. Van Buren received 1, and Gen. Cass 11.—Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Woodbury, and Com. Stewart received each one or two scattering votes on the different ballots. The convention then adjourned to Tuesday.

On Tuesday the balloting was continued: on the 8th ballot Mr. Van Buren received 104 votes, Gen. Cass 114, Mr. Polk 44 and Mr. Buchanan 2; on the 9th ballot Mr. Van Buren was withdrawn; Mr. Polk received 231 votes, Gen. Cass 29—majority for Polk 202.

Hon. JAMES K. POLK, of Tennessee, was accordingly declared candidate for PRESIDENT. For Vice President, Silas Wright, of New York, received 258 votes, and Mr. Woodbury 8; and Mr. Wright was declared candidate for Vice President. He was in Washington City, but was notified of his nomination by the Magno-Electric Telegraph, and in the incredible short space of five minutes an answer was received from him declining the nomination! Hon. George M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania, was then nominated for Vice President.

The nomination of Mr. Polk was received with the utmost enthusiasm and cordiality, and as it was so nearly unanimous, he will receive the united support of the democratic party. It is confidently believed that he will carry every southern state. The contest between Mr. Van Buren and Gen. Cass having been so close, and the friends of each showing so little disposition to give way to the other, it is probable that if either had been nominated, he would not have been cordially supported by the adherents of the other. The nomination of Mr. Polk is therefore a most auspicious one, and we have every assurance that under his guidance we shall achieve a glorious and lasting triumph over our adversaries.

So far as we are yet able to judge, Mr. Polk will receive more votes in this county than either Mr. Van Buren or Gen. Cass would. The people are getting tired of old politicians, and are desirous of trying new men. Mr. Clay has been so long before the people, claiming office at their hands, that many of his own party are sick of him, and some have already manifested an intention of dropping him and supporting Mr. Polk. The whig leaders here are thunderstruck at Mr. Polk's nomination, and are complaining loudly that Mr. Van Buren was not selected. Their electioneering capital—the lies they had collected for circulation—their standing army and gold spoon humbugs—their whig songs and coon medallies—will all remain a dead stock on their hands; much time must elapse before they can accumulate a new capital sufficient to commence active operations against Mr. Polk. We are sorry for their disappointment, but it cannot now be helped.

Mr. Polk is favorably known throughout the country for the able and impartial manner in which he filled the responsible situation of Speaker of the House during the eventful sessions of 1835, '36, '37, and '38. He was previously chairman of the committee of ways and means, and rendered most efficient aid to the administration of General Jackson during his arduous struggle with the United States Bank. He is a devoted political and personal friend of Gen. Jackson, and probably enjoys his confidence and esteem to a greater extent than any other man in the Union. He has ever been a firm and consistent democrat, and has supported the cause of his party and his country in its darkest hour.

In 1839 he resigned his seat in Congress and became candidate for Governor of Tennessee, and although the state was then Whig, and he had to encounter the most determined opposition from the Bank party, he was elected. In 1841 and again last year he was defeated in the election for Governor, but by a majority vastly reduced from the one given against the democrats in 1840.

In private life Mr. Polk is universally esteemed, and is of a most irreproachable character. In public he is distinguished for his firmness and consistency; respected even by his opponents, for his candor, fairness, and openness; in Congress he was one of the most able, industrious, and indefatigable of members, commanding the admiration of all by his talents and courteous demeanour.—He is destined to be one of the ablest and most popular Presidents our country has ever been blessed with.

The New York Tribune says that Mr. Tyler has declined his nomination, and will throw his influence for Mr. Polk.

Impeachment of the President.—Chancellor Kent, of New York, in reply to an inquiry of Mr. J. H. Raymond, gives his opinion that Mr. Tyler ought to be impeached. He says:—

"I think there can be no doubt that the enormous abuses and stretch of power by President Tyler, afford ample materials for the exercise of the power of impeachment, and an imperative duty in the House of Representatives to put it in practice."

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

For three or four weeks past we published in our paper a call for a Senatorial Convention to be held in this place, on Saturday, June 1st, to nominate a democratic candidate for the Senate for the counties of Allen, Huntington, Adams, and Wells. At the time appointed, delegates appeared from Huntington and Adams; the Wells delegation was unable to reach here on account of the high waters; and Allen county—we are ashamed to publish it—owing to some unaccountable neglect, had held no county convention, and consequently had no delegates appointed to attend the Senatorial convention.—The Convention adjourned, to meet at Huntington, next Saturday, the 15th inst.

A call has been made for a convention for this county to be held in the court house at this place next Wednesday, to appoint delegates to the Huntington convention. We trust it may be numerously attended, and that no democrat who can possibly make it convenient to attend, will neglect to be present. We owe it to ourselves, and to those delegates who came here last Saturday, to attend to the matter this time in good faith. Some steps will also, we presume, be taken to organize our party in this county—a measure which is evidently much needed, as we do not know of any county in the State in which the democratic party is so thoroughly disbanded at this time, as our own county; although there can be no doubt that a majority of the citizens are democratic. There would be no use now in trying to find out who is to blame for this state of things; but as we all can see that it is wrong, and that a necessity exists for better management hereafter, we trust all true democrats will now unite to remedy their former negligence.

The meeting was opened by appointing Capt. J. Darrow, of Huntington, President, and John McConnel, of Adams, Vice President, and Edward F. Colerick, Secretary.

On motion of L. Williams, Esq., it was ordered that there be a Democratic Central Committee appointed, which committee consist of one in each of the counties composing this senatorial district—Whereupon, the President appointed Joseph Sinclear, of Allen, Samuel Decker, of Wells, Samuel S. Micklé, of Adams, and Joseph Wiley, of Huntington, said committee.

On motion of L. Williams, Esq., the convention adjourned to meet at Huntington on Saturday the 15th inst.

On motion,

Resolved, That the proceedings be signed by the President and Secretary, and published in the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

J. DARROW, Pres't.

E. F. COLERICK, Sec'y.

Who is Mr. Polk?—We have heard this question often asked by whigs since Mr. Polk's nomination. We think their ignorance must be affected, or else their memories are remarkably treacherous. Mr. Polk was the Speaker of the House of Representatives whom Mr. Clay, the great Whig Dictator, with his usual courtesy, decorum, and love of order, addressed in the following gentlemanly strain, when he gave a decision on a point of order contrary to the dictator's supreme will:—"Go home, G—d d—n you; go home, sir, where you belong, G—d d—n you!" Perhaps they may now recollect who Mr. Polk is. Can they tell us who Mr. Clay is? Is he the pious and moral man who used the above language to the presiding officer of the American Congress? Is he the man whom it is expected the moral and religious part of community—men who do not usually attend the polls—will vote for, because a Mr. Frelinghuysen, a very pious man, is nominated to run on the same ticket!

The Weather.—The weather still continues wet in this part of the country, and the prospect of the crops is any thing but promising.

By the Southern papers we learn that in Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana the season has been unusually dry and every thing is suffering from the drought.

The Methodist General Conference, now in session in New York City, has devoted much of their time to the discussion of Slavery. Bishop Andrews, it appears, has become, in right of his wife, the owner of some slaves: the New England methodists object to his holding such property, and he is unable or unwilling to emancipate them. This has given rise to a long and ceremonious discussion, in which it seems to us, that some of the speakers showed more zeal and warmth in support of their respective views, and less regard for the feelings and motives of those who differed with them, than was becoming in a religious assemblage. The language used by many—the sarcasm and invective indulged in—and the unyielding spirit manifested—appear to us decidedly out of place. The discussion has not been a whit more temperate or conciliating than discussions on the same exciting subject in Congress. The abolitionists wish to depose Bishop Andrews, and the Southern men threaten to divide the Conference,—to secede from the General Conference—or to establish an independent one in the South. If that should be done we may expect to see a very pretty scramble for the spoils. At our latest advices the subject was not disposed of, nor was there any indication that the ill-feeling engendered was subsiding.

TYLER NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Tyler national convention assembled in Calvert Hall, Baltimore on Monday, May 27th. Mr. Shaler of N. York was nominated Chairman. After some considerable debate the convention was organized by appointing J. W. White of Connecticut, President, and a full list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. A resolution offered by Dr. Kreider of Ohio, nominating John Tyler for President, was carried by acclamation. A committee of five was appointed to inform Mr. Tyler of his nomination, and after some other unimportant business, the convention adjourned to Tuesday morning.

From the Baltimore Patriot—Tuesday.

This assemblage of "disinterested patriots" assembled this morning in Calvert Hall, in pursuance of the adjournment of yesterday.

After a National air by the Band, the body was called to order by the President, and the members were requested to be seated and take their hats off.

The President asked further time to enable the Committee to draft an address to the people of the United States, and stated that he would report the names of the National Central Committee at Washington—Request granted.

Mr. ST. JOHN, of New-York then addressed the Convention, and contended that the Tyler party did not consider themselves severed from the great Democratic party, & that the object for which they had assembled was not to distract, but to secure the triumphant success of the principles of the Democracy, and suggested that the Convention should not nominate a candidate for the Vice Presidency, but that the name of John Tyler be borne, as a candidate for President, should be "sent down" to the Loco-Foco National Convention, and modestly intimated that if that body would "adopt" Tyler as a candidate for President, the Captain's friends would graciously permit the regular "Democracy" to name the candidate for Vice President; and then the gentleman from New York, without offering any resolution, took his seat.

No member rising to speak,

Mr. SMITH, of Ohio, was called for from various parts of the room; that gentleman took the stand and made a "glaring" Tyler and Texas" speech, introducing a number of very good anecdotes. The speech was received by the Convention in a spirit corresponding with the "blood" of the speaker.

The committee to nominate a candidate for the Vice Presidency, then appeared and reported the following preamble and resolutions, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Tyler Democratic National Convention have manifest their hearts the success of the great principles of Democracy, in the coming Presidential contest; therefore, to this end be it

Resolved, That this committee recommend the appointment of a National Nominating Committee of seven persons by the President of the Convention, whose duty it shall be to report a candidate for the Vice Presidency through the public papers, as soon as practicable, and that this committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

A resolution was then offered that the proceeding of the Convention be published in all the papers of the Union friendly to Tyler, and in pamphlet form, and that the names of all the members of the Convention be published in connection with the proceedings. The resolution was then unanimously adopted.

Mr. ARMSTEAD, of Virginia, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the friends of JOHN TYLER be requested to assemble in their respective States on the 4th of July, or as soon thereafter as convenient, to name Electorial Tickets.

After a few closing remarks from the President and nine cheers for 'Tyler and Texas,' the Convention adjourned sine die. So end ends the 'farce.'

ADAMS COUNTY DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

On the 25th day of May, a meeting of the Democracy of the county of Adams, in the State of Indiana, was held at the Court House in said county, for the purpose of responding to the call for a Senatorial Convention, State Convention, and the nomination by the Democracy of Jay county of a candidate for Representative for the District composed of said counties, &c.

The meeting was called to order by the appointment of Samuel L. Rugg, Chairman, and Dr. William Trout, Secretary.

On motion of Samuel S. Micklé, Esq., a committee of five was appointed by the Chair, to report to the meeting a Preamble and Resolutions expressive of the views of the meeting, touching the business before it; and Alexander Fleming, John Lemasters, James Patterson, Stephen S. Rugg and Samuel Eley, were appointed said committee, who after a short retirement reported the following Preamble and Resolutions, to wit:

Whereas, The time is at hand when in the course of public affairs it becomes the Democracy of the Nation to be on the alert and use all honorable and fair means to secure the triumph of their principles; by the election of men to the high and important stations in the State and Nation, whose integrity to those principles is above suspicion, to the end that the greatest amount of human happiness may be secured to the greatest portion of our fellow men. Therefore,

Resolved, That this meeting earnestly recommend to the Democracy of this county to immediately organize themselves in the manner that has been attended with signal success in other counties, and "do battle" nobly and fearlessly in the great cause of civil liberty, in opposition to that party whose Chief proclaims that if they cannot have black slaves they must have white ones, for they cannot eat their own firewood, black their own shoes, and that their wives and daughters cannot work in the kitchen.

Resolved, That as Democrats of the "great family," we will act as a "band of brothers" in the coming struggle—making use of all honorable and fair means to secure the triumphant election of the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President of the United States.

Resolved, That for the more triumphant success of our principles in the Councils of the Nation, it becomes us to elect a Democratic Senator and Representative from this Senatorial and Representative District, on account of the approaching election of U. S. Senator in the place on Hon. A. S. White.

Resolved, That we heartily respond to the call for a Democratic Senatorial Convention to be soon held at Fort Wayne, and that we appoint two delegates from each township to represent this county in said convention.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the great efforts of the whig party to carry the Northeastern part of this State in the approaching elections, by making a Salt River of Fort Wayne, calls for corresponding efforts on the part of the Democracy to resist the efforts of the concentration of their defeated chieftains in that quarter.

Resolved, That it is the choice of this meeting that L. P. Ferry, Esq., should be nominated as a candidate for Senator at the approaching Senatorial Convention, leaving, however, the choice of the candidate otherwise to the convention; and that we unanimously pledge ourselves to support for Senator the nominee of that convention.

Resolved, That the entire Democracy of this county be requested to consider themselves delegates to attend the Young Men's State Convention to be held at Indianapolis on the 17th day of June next.

Whereas, The Democracy of the county of Jay, late in convention assembled, have nominated Mr. Robert Hacy as their candidate for Representative to the General Assembly for this District, and respectfully ask us to concur in said nomination—therefore,

Resolved, That we fully and freely concur in said nomination—that we will give it our undivided support, and that we will use all honorable means to secure the election of Mr. Hacy to that important station.

Resolved, That our faithful sentinel on the "watch tower," Hon. Andrew Kennedy, is more and more deserving of our confidence for his resistance to the system of unjust tax ation which has been sought to be fastened upon the country by the whig party in Congress, to-wit: "The Protective Tariff System."

Resolved, That we throw back with contempt the hocus pocus by which the whig party have attempted to prove to us that taxes levied and collected beyond the necessities of the Government are a "positive good to the people taxed."

Resolved, That the central committee be authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur in their own body, or in the delegates appointed by this meeting to attend either of the conventions.

Said committee reported the gentlemen whose names follow as delegates to attend the Senatorial Convention, to-wit: Michael Rock, John G. Yaeger, sen., Timothy Coffee, Alexander Fleming, Stephen S. Rugg, Andrew Doherty, George Coskery, Solomon Shepp, Benjamin J. Britton, David Shawer, Sealy Stansbury, Andrew Scales, John McConnel, John Eley, Jacob Abnet, John Bell, Josiah Crawford, Isaac wheeler, Geo. French, Daniel Miller, Benjamin Brown, Peter Kyser, John Grim, and Alexander Stewart.

The persons whose names follow were reported as delegates to represent this county in the Young Men's State Convention, to wit: Enos Mann, B. F. Blosson, Sam'l L. Rugg, David Irwin, Benj. B Winans, Samuel Sacket, Samuel S. Micklé, Benjamin Fenale, John Crawford, Wm. Brown, Lot French and Samuel Steele.

Which report was unanimously concurred in by the meeting.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by its officers and a copy forwarded to the editor of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, with the request that they be published.

The meeting then adjourned without day.

MEETING TO FORM A BIBLE SOCIETY.

The friends for the circulating of the Bible to the destitute in this Western country, held a meeting at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening last. Allen Hamilton, Esq., arose and nominated Col. Nathaniel A. Woodward as Chairman of the meeting, which was consented to. The meeting was then opened with prayer by Rev. Charles Beecher; after which Peter P. Bailey was appointed Secretary.

Rev. W. C. Anderson stated the objects of the meeting, which were to organize a Bible Society, auxiliary to the American Bible Society, to collect funds and keep a Depository of Bibles at this place sufficient to supply every family of this and the counties with a copy, without note or comment.

A resolution was then passed, that this meeting proceed to organize a "Bible Society" for the distribution of the Bible.

Doctor H. P. Ayres presented a copy of a Constitution for the government of such societies, which was read, debated, and with some amendments, adopted as the Constitution of the Allen County Bible Society.

The following persons were then chosen as officers of this Society for the ensuing year: Allen Hamilton, President; C. R. Huntman, Peter P. Bailey, Vice Presidents; Dr. H. P. Ayres, Secretary; R. W. Townley, Treasurer; Rev. S. R. Bell, Sam'l Hanna, H. Rudisill, Nathaniel A. Woodward, F. A. Tyler, Directors.

A list was then circulated and a considerable sum of money subscribed for the furtherance of the objects of the Society, and further aid is respectfully solicited from all who are friendly to this cause. Rev. W. C. Anderson made some remarks upon the necessity of immediate and continued action by the Society, and that the Executive Committee be held strictly responsible for all their doings. He hoped to see, before the year expired, a deposit of 500 or 1000 Bibles at Fort Wayne, and that all who were destitute should have a supply of the Word of God.

The meeting then adjourned after devotional exercises by the last named Reverend gentleman.

LATE FROM TEXAS.

WAR!—WAR.—The Houston Telegraph of the 8th brings news from Mexico of this character:—

"The division of the Mexican army under the command of Gen. Woll, was strengthened just before our commissioners left Matamoras. It is stated that the Mexican army has recently been increased, and was in a better condition than it had been for several years previous. It will be seen also in the letter of Instructions of Buranegin to Gen. Woll, that orders had been issued to that commander to prepare for war, in case the negotiations [the armistice of Mexico and Texas] should fail. He had previously received a remittance of $150,000 to campaign by orders to equip a squadron of cavalry to make a sudden irruption into the centre of Texas. Santa Anna, therefore, may have intended, in case the armistice signed by our commissioners, should not be approved by President Houston, to authorize Gen. Woll to make a sudden irruption into Texas with a squadron of cavalry, create an alarm of invasion, and by this means intimidate the people of Texas so that they would at once acknowledge the sovereignty of Mexico, to avoid the evils of a protracted war.—The negotiations for annexation would thus be effectually broken off unless the treaty had been previously ratified. Whatever were his intentions, however, he has been completely circumvented by President Tyler. For, as we have before stated, the American Executive has given him official notice that any act of hostility committed by Mexico against Texas, will be regarded as an act of hostility against the United States, and will be treated accordingly."

"Not a little dissatisfaction prevails in Texas, so we learn verbally, in relation to the late annexation has taken in this country. Many of the Texans appear now to regret that they did not attempt to 'strike a bargain' with Great Britain, instead of offering themselves to the United States."

MINISTER TO MEXICO.—On the 4th instant, as appears by the published correspondence, the Secretary of the Navy ordered the steamer Union to proceed to New Orleans, and to be at that port between the 20th and 25th of this month, and take on board Governor Shannon, Minister to Mexico, and convey him as speedily as possible to Vera Cruz. The letter also stated that Governor Shannon had been requested to advise the commander of the Union, what day he will be in New Orleans.

Six days after the above was written, the Secretary of the Navy again writes to the commander of the Union, under the date of May 10th, and in which he says, "the President of the United States having determined to send no Minister at present to Mexico, you will consider the order addressed to you on the 4th instant, to proceed to New Orleans, as revoked."

To us it does seem that, if ever a minister was needed at Mexico, the present is the time. Our relations with Mexico are of a threatening aspect, & we should think Governor Shannon ought to be on the ground to make such explanations as may be needed to prevent an unnecessary rupture between the two Republics.—Ohio Statesman.

Some of the Whig papers in New York have been in the habit of calling the Democratic "barn burners." The latter may justly retaliate by giving those Whig blackguards the title of "Church burners."—State Sentinel.

Mr. Frelinghuysen, though an estimable man, is finely wedded to all the old federal notions and doctrines. He has not one principle in common with the democracy of the country upon political subjects. First and foremost, he was one of the most unscrupulous partisans and eulogists of Biddle in his warfare upon the popular institutions of the country, and most active in his opposition to Gen. Jackson, and his patriotic exertions to rid the nation of an incubus which was fast dragging our people down to a dependency upon the money power, through the instrumentality of an overshadowing corporation.—Buffalo Gazette.

"A GREEN SPOT IN THE WILDERNESS."—Among the sickening scenes lately enacted in Philadelphia there is one fact which we have seen mentioned that is worthy of all praise. The article which announced it, we are sorry to say, is misdid, and we can only give the facts as we recollect them. The Quakers, and many Protestants of other denominations, in Philadelphia, have thrown open their houses to the Catholic priests and Catholic families whose dwellings were burned by the mob. Many Protestants have expressed a willingness to contribute largely to the erection of a new Church in the place of Augustine but with the understanding that it is not to be on the same spot, for they wish the blackened walls, like those of the Convent near Boston, to stand until they crumble to pieces, as a monument to the infamy of those who participated in its burning.

This shows that a redeeming spirit is abroad in the land; that no persecution for religious belief will hereafter be allowed.—Would that they had thus resolved before the country was disgraced by the late riot. Ohio Statesman.

AN APT ILLUSTRATION.—The published account of the proceedings of the "Whig ratification meeting at New York on the 6th inst. has the follwing paragraph.

"Mr. Sparks, of Louisiana, made some pleasant remarks, which he concluded with a eulogium on the character and principles of Henry Clay. He said that in Clay and Frelinghuysen the whig party have a Moses and an Aaron; and that they are now on the summit of Pisgah, looking over into Canaan, where one effort more would assuredly bring them into the land of promise. (Great cheering.")

Mr. Sparks has omitted the most striking part of the illustration—that Moses never reached the promised land. He was only permitted to "look over into Canaan."—Cin. Enq.

MUSIC.—There is to be music at the Young Men's Clay Club in Fort Wayne, and there will be goslins to perform it, and donkies to listen. Anxious mothers will have the fidgets for their sunnies who may be out!—Goshen Democrat.

☞ LIVER COMPLAINTS of bilious climates arise from the same causes which produce Fever and Ague, and are cured with the same certainty by Dr. Osgood's INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. Even after the liver has become much enlarged and tender upon pressure, it is in a few weeks restored to its naturalsize, soreness and pain in the side relieved, with such general improvement as denotes returning health.

The above highly valuable preparation may be found at the store of Dr. L. BEECHER, agent for the proprietor.

PROSPECTUS FOR

The Indiana Staats-Zeitung.

THE undersigned takes this opportunity to inform the German population of Indiana, that he intends to publish at Indianapolis a paper in the GERMAN LANGUAGE, to be called the

Indiana Staats-Zeitung.

The German citizens of Indiana have been long in need of a paper which could inform them on subjects connected with the political history of the country, with the great principles of the democracy, and especially the wants and interests of the state of Indiana. Although the paper will be dedicated to the defence of the principles and measures of the great democratic party, nevertheless all parties shall be privileged to insert in the Staats-Zeitung does not articles in defence of their principles so that a fair appeal is given to the German inhabitants of the state of Indiana to compare the doctrines of the different parties and to judge which of them is promoting the best interest and welfare of the country. The public will readily appreciate the importance of such a paper, when they consider the number of Germans in the state of Indiana, and the utter inability of most of them to obtain that information which is absolutely necessary to a proper use of the elective franchise.

The undersigned having been eight years an editor of democratic papers flatters himself to be able to satisfy all those who wish the great democratic principles of equal rights explained in a clear and appropriate manner, & he hopes therefore, that he shall receive such aid from the public in general as will enable him to persevere in his undertaking.

The paper will appear on the 1st of May, provided the necessary number of subscribers should be obtained, and continued weekly. The price will be $2 00 per year; and $1 00 for six months must be advanced.

DR. JAMES M. CUSHMAN,
OCULIST,

WOULD respectfully inform the community, that among quite a large number of unfortunate individuals of whom he has had occasion to treat for the various affections of the Eye, there has not as yet, in this section of the State, a case presented itself so obstinate, however long standing, and in despite of every disadvantage, where he has failed to eradicate the disease and effect a perfect cure. He, therefore, solicits at the hands of those who are thus unhappily afflicted, a portion of their patronage, their prayers for his success, and their attention to the following, to wit:

Chronic Inflammation of the Eyelids; or Sore Eyes,

of however long standing, can in most instances be effectually and permanently cured. Films, specs, &c., in many instances, can be entirely removed without surgical operation.

CATARACTS removed by any of the operations practised in any portion of this country, or in any of the European Ophthalmic Infirmaries.

STRABISMUS, commonly called SQUINTING, or Cross Eyes. This is a modern improvement in Ophthalmic Surgery, and perhaps there is no operation in the whole Catalogue of scientific modern surgery, that the operator can with more confidence recommend to the unfortunately afflicted than this. The benefits arising from a successful operator are two-fold. First, we expect to remove the cast of however long standing entirely. Secondly, we expect where a weakness of sight exists, full power of vision will be restored in a few weeks, and where amplyobia is present, we expect a restoration of sight in a great degree, but not in so short a period. Where muscæ, voli tantes, photopsia mystaxia, or nictitatio palpebrarum exist, these affections also decrease in proportion as the centre of posterior hemisphere increases in acuteness of sensation.

Dental Surgery.

Dr. C. will perform every necessary operation for the improvement and preservation of the teeth. He will insert any number of teeth mounted on gold plates, or on the fangs, so as to be permanent and useful to the wearer, and in no wise injurious to the teeth to which they are attached.—He will cleanse and fill those that are in a state of decay; in most cases so as to render them permanent and useful. All operations warranted, and satisfactory references given, by calling on him at his office at the American.

THE CLOUDS.

Sb beautiful and calm they lie
On the soft bosom of the sky
Like a sweet infant lulled to rest
Upon its mother's gentle breast—
As fair and delicate their hue
As the young violet's modest blue;
How musing Fancy loves to stand
And mould them in her plastic hand!
Here, one a seraph's form assumes,
There glide pale spectres of the tombs
Along their shadowy path on high,
To the tribunal of the sky,
And God himself in awful state
Appears their presence to await.
Thus carried on from flight to flight
Eternity gleams on the sight,
Till the wide vault of heav'n become
The arena of the spirit's home.
But lo, yon dark and gloomy form!
It is the spirit of the storm
Upon the angry winds sent forth
From the chill regions of the North,
And the hoarse echo of his word
In the loud thunder now is heard;
The slumb'ring clouds forsake their rest
At the dark spirit's stern behest,
And gath'ring where the lightnings play
Along their gloom-enshrouded way,
Hang lowering o'er the sailor's head—
The pall that wraps his funeral bed;
And from their dark and frowning folds
A mystic hand the death-bell tolls,
Till the fierce billows catch the knell
The wild dirge of the dead to swell;
And the brave seaman sinks to rest
Alone, forgotten and unblest.
Nor less the landsman's watchful eye
Marks the ill omens of the sky,
Each sweeping cloud the harbinger
Of death and desolation near,
And ruin, havoc, wild despair,
Spread thro' the trackless realms of air;
A thousand forms of vengeful wrath
Waste the wild forest's winding path,
And bear the ensigns of the tomb
Where cities rise, or deserts gloom,
Till on the wing of every gale
Come the wild shriek and dying wail.
So when the storms of human life
Sweep o'er the breast with passions rife,
No more the earth-bound spirit knows
The gentle angel of repose,
And innocence thus early dies
Like the mild beauty of the skies,
When the first tempest shrouds its light
And wraps it in a rayless night.
Oh, for a refuge from the storms
That fill the soul with dread alarms!
'Twere sweet in stainless infancy.
To lay this body down—and die.

A SONG OF THE DEMOCRACY.

BY CHAS. O. WATERS, M. D.

We come—but not with revel shout—
No madd'ning Bacchal song—
No wild and frenzied cry rings out
Our serried ranks along.
But heart with heart and hand with hand
We onward press—we court the fight—
A bold—a true—a faithful band—
In Freedom's name—in Freedom's right.

We come—the weapons of the free
Are in each hard and brawny hand,
And falling sure and silently
They sweep corruption from the land.
Our leader we of yore have found
First in the fight and faithful ever;
With heart and hand we rally round
One who can prove a recreant never.

We come—and o'er us proudly waves
The banner that our fathers bore
To conquest or to patriot graves
When British minions thronged our shore.
Yes—faithful hearts now throng thee round,
Thou banner of the brave and free;
With high resolve each heart is bound
To conquer—or to fall with thee.

We come—we come—a mighty throng
Full-pledged to Freedom's sacred cause,
Our hearts are true—our hands are strong—
We fight for equal rights and laws.
The heritage our fathers gave,
The holy prize for which they bled,
Their sons shall guard—or gory grave
Shall close above each freeman's head.

Then proudly raise our standard high,
And ev'ry mountain—ev'ry glen—
Shall echo back our rallying cry,
And triumph crown our Cause again.
Yes—boldly be our banner flung,
And firm let ev'ry freeman be,
Soon—soon shall leap from ev'ry tongue
The thrilling shout of Victory.

Harpersville, (N. Y.) May, 1844.

WHOM WE SHOULD WATCH.

If you ever hear a man on the corners of the streets preaching about morality, watch him closely—you will find him to be a villain in disguise.

If you hear a newspaper Editor croaking about the state of society in which he lives, you will find him one of the most dangerous members.

If you hear an editor publishing complimentary notices of himself, or communications, praising his exertions, set him down for a fool.

If you hear of a man making a great noise about going to church and whining about religion, you may take it for granted he is some infamous scamp, who does not pay his debts, and assumes the garb of religion to conceal his infamy! Religious people go to church and make no parade about it.

If you hear a fellow constantly bestowing public praise upon ladies and courting their sympathies, you may take it for granted he is a poor devil who is despised by men.

If you hear of an editor being in the habit of quoting bad French and bad Latin, set him down as not understanding even the English language.

A MISSISSIPPI WILD-CAT STORY.—The Pelihatchee Swamp, some twenty miles from Jackson, has, until the last year or two, been the resort of hunters from all the towns in its vicinity, for bear, panthers, wild-cats, deer, and turkies. About two years since, an old friend of mine—a rough swearing old codger, with a real hickory face—visited the swamp in search of game. He had taken his station behind a log, lying at full length, with his head to the log, and his gun lay partly over it, to be in readiness for doing execution. I think I see o'd Daniel, now, with his persimmon face earnest with hope and expectation, applying the wing-bone of a turkey to his mouth, and at times bobbing up his head to see the effect of his deception. In the meanwhile a wild cat, prowling about in search of a repast off the same delicate game, was attracted by the call, which seemed to proceed from a turkey astray from the flock. He commenced a stealthy approach to the place from whence the call issued, and seeing a dark object moving and rising ever anon behind a log, the cat would crouch as the object rose, and renew its approach as it sunk down; and so on, until he had obtained a position immediately behind the log which concealed F., who raising his head to look, was clapped on each side of his face by the cat, with teeth showing beautifully within an inch of his peaked nose! The look the two gave each other was anything but affectionate. The horror and dismay of Uncle Daniel may be imagined, and some idea may be formed by you of the appearance of his countenance, by taking a good look at the engraving representing Terror and Horror, in "Lavater on Physiognomy." The cat was as much alarmed and surprised as Uncle Daniel, and had he waited, would have relaxed his hold and fled; but he sprang with such force as to jerk the cat several feet from the ground and tear its claws loose, leaving a furrow for every one of them the whole length of his face—and thus they parted, two uncongenial spirits, Uncle Daniel, without hat or gun, making such headway in one direction that it would have puzzled Boston in his great brush with Mariner, to have held his own; while the cat bolted in the opposite course, leaping nearly over the tops of the high canes which grow along the creek.

This was the last turkey-hunt my old friend D. F. ever took in that swamp, and he often swore to me that he would rather be butted to death by his own goats (of which he had numbers,) than call turkies in a lonesome swamp.

A BEAR STORY.—I was very much pleased a few days since to hear the following anecdote related in illustrating the natural effects of that odious practice which many people have fallen into of frightening their children into obedience by placing before them some bugbear that never existed but in imagination. We think it will hit many good meaning, but deceived parents. An old lady was in the habit of telling her son—"John, if you do any more mischief, THE BEARS WILL KETCH YOU!" Being in pursuit of the cow one evening John came to the edge of a forest, and fearing to enter least his mother's saying should prove true, he paused and began to cry. A gentlemen who was passing by asked him why he wept. The lad informed him, and he in derision cried, "Pooh, there is not a bear in forty miles of here." Upon this the boy took courage & bro't the cow. Transgressing the rules of his matron soon after, the threat was resorted to, but had lost its terror, and he very pertly replied, "Pooh mother, there is not a bear in forty miles of here, a man said so." The old lady now saw "the jig was up," and that she must create another scarecrow, so turning to the boy she observed, "Well John, if you do wrong again you will go to hell."

This was a new and strange thing to John, and he began to query with his mother as to the location, &c.; she proceeds with great gravity to depict its horrors, and tell of the awful torment that he will there undergo, when John with an arch look of suspicion exclaimed, "MOTHER, AIN'T THAT ANOTHER BEAR STORY?"

INUNDATION AT ST. LOUIS.—The St. Louis Gazette of the 17th ult., says:

"The Mississippi is still rising. The Missouri and its tributaries, and, indeed, all the streams are full. The American bottom, opposite this city, is submerged, and impassable. The boat at the new ferry has ceased her trips. Illinois town, opposite the city, is deluged. We were over last evening, and such a scene! But we have no space now for description. The water is higher than it was in 1836, and it is impossible to predict where or when it will cease rising. A few feet more will bring it to the threshhold of the warehouses on the landing. It will not rise so rapidly now, however, on this side, as before it was over its banks. The most disastrous results are apprehended to attend and succeed this inundation. The Illinois shore, opposite the mouth of the Missouri, we are informed, is falling in at a fearful rate. Additional rise from the upper Mississippi is expected.

AN UNREASONABLE PROPOSAL.—An Irish laborer, who was in the employ of an English gentleman residing in Ireland, was on one occasion about going to a fair, held annually at a neighboring village, when his master endeavored to dissuade him from his design.

'You always,' said he, 'come back with a broken head; now, stay at home to-day, Darby, and I'll give you five shillings.'

'I'm forever and all obliged to your honor,' replied Darby; 'but does it stand to rason.' added he flourishing his shillelagh over his head, 'does it stand to rason, that I'd take five shillings for the bating I'm to get to-day?'

THE NIGHTMARE.—The Boston Cultivator tells a good story. It was that one of its subscribers was much troubled by the nightmare, and applied several remedies to no effect, till his good lady asked him if he had paid for his newspaper! On going to see, he found that he was in arrears two years. He at once paid up and returned home and slept soundly for three or four nights, but fearing the trouble would come on again he went back to the office and paid for one year in advance. This has proved an effectual cure!

CULTIVATION OF FRUIT.

The following is an extract from a very excellent agricultural address, delivered in October last, by Rev. Charles B. Kitredge, of Westborough, before the Agricultural Society of Westborough, and vicinity.

"But there is yet another source of profit to the agriculturist too often overlooked and neglected; I refer to the production of fruit. I refer to it now simply as a source of pecuniary profit, or a means of wealth. Good fruit is an article which never wants a market; and the demand will doubtless increase, for many years at least with the supply.—There is nothing, perhaps, produced with so little labor and expense, which, at any time, yields so abundant a reward. There is a single tree in this town, reared by the hand of one of our members, which, though not yet ten years old, produced the last year, four barrels of prime winter fruit. These were sold for not less than $1.50 per barrel; paying an interest at six per cent on $100. One hundred such trees might be set upon an acre of ground. The original cost of the trees we will suppose to be $100, or one dollar each, and the value of the land $100.—During the first ten years after their sitting, we will suppose that the trees pay the annual interest on their original cost, together with the expense of cultivation, which is probably far below their actual yield. The land during this period, is equally valuable for cultivation as before the setting of the trees, and may reasonably be supposed to pay its own interest. In ten years, then, under proper management, we have one hundred trees in a bearing state like the one above referred to, which, with the land they cover, have cost $200. Now deducting two hundred per cent. from the yield of the single tree for unfruitful years, cause of unproductiveness, and $50 per annum for expense of cultivation, and $12 interest on the original cost, there remains a net profit of $138 per annum on a single acre, which is equal to the interest at six per cent. of $2,500! Or in other words a single acre of land in this state is worth $2,500!

"Take another fact. In an adjoining town I have occasionally passed a row of quince trees set along by the garden wall, some six or eight rods in length. These bushes for several years have been worth to the owner some $600 or $700; that is, they have paid an annual interest at six per cent. on that sum. More than six hundred trees of the same kind might be judiciously set upon an acre of ground, which yielding at the same rate would give the owner the pretty little sum of $1,200 per annum! But deducting one half for unfruitful trees, and half of the remainder for expense of cultivation and cause of unproductiveness, and there remains still the handsome profit of $300 an a single acree, or an interest at six per cent. on $5,000! If these estimates be sound, and I see not why they are not so, where, I ask, is the highway to wealth, if the agriculturist has not found it?"

TARIFF FACTS FROM THE BOOK.

The Fredericksburg Recorder gives the following facts, which all ought to be acquainted with:

The average exports of the United States, under the Protective tariff, for the nine years preceding the Compromise, were 57,399,945 dollars per annum.—While during the period of reduced and reducing duties, was 96,447,795; being a gain of 38,646.855 per year. Let farmers who make and sailors who carry produce, remember this.

The duty on the calicoes used by the rich is 30 per cent. Let the poor remember this.

The duty on flannels for the rich is but 40 per cent. on flannels for the poor 100 per cent.

The duty on "golden cambrics" is 36 per cent, on "stripe shirting" 65 per cent.

The duty on gold chains for dandies is but 7 per cent. on iron chains for farmers 70 per cent.

The duty on window glass ranges from 94 to 178 per cent. with an average of more than 150 per cent. Is not light heavily taxed?

Implements of husbandry are taxed from 75 to 150 per cent. so of every dollar paid by a farmer for such articles, nearly 50 cents are extorted from him, to enrich the already rich manufacturer.

Let farmers remember when they spend a dollar for farming utensils, that they pay 50 cents for the article itself—10 cents for the suport of government, and 40 cents to gloat the rich beggars of the north. This is not fiction.

Raw iron has a duty of 112 per cent.—Who uses iron? or rather who does not use it? Let them remember they pay double its worth.

The duty on certain descriptions of cotton goods ranges from 60 to 150 per cent. making the article itself at least twice its natural price.

Salt (we wish every one who uses salt to note this fact) is taxed 133 per cent! extorting more than double its actual cost from the consumer, (and every person is such) in order to enable our salt boilers to make their yearly dividend of 80 per cent!

The duty on anvils is 70 per cent.—Let mechanics remember it.

The duty on iron in small bars, 240 per cent! One price for the article itself and 2 1-2 for the protection of the American manufacturer.

The duty on irons for tailors and hatters is 140 per cent. This is protecting mechanics!

The duty on iron wire is 230 per cent.

The rise in the price of Hardware has been 10 per cent. since last spring. Who pays it?

These are a few facts connected with the present tariff. More are forthcoming. Repeal is the word, and repeal is the remedy.

Poisoned by the Leaf of the Pie Plant.—The whole family of Mr. Havens, of Bedford, were poisoned a few days since, in consequence of eating Rhubarb leaves boiled as greens, and it is feared that two of the children will not recover. The leaf of this plant of which the stalk is used for pies without danger, contains a considerable quantity of oxalic acid.—Jour. Com.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Senate of the United States:

In answer to the resolution of the Senate of the 13th instant, requesting to be informed "whether a messenger has been sent to Mexico with a view to obtain her consent to the treaty with Texas, and, if so, to communicate to the Senate a copy of the despatches of which he is bearer, and a copy of the instructions given to said messenger; and also to inform the Senate within what time the said messenger is expected to return:" I have to say, that no messenger has been sent to Mexico in order to obtain her assent to the treaty with Texas, it not being regarded by the Executive as in any degree requisite to obtain such consent in order (should the Senate ratify the treaty) to perfect the title of the United States to the territory thus acquired—the title to the same being full and perfect without the assent of any third Power. The Executive has negotiated with Texas as an independent Power of the world, long since recognised as such by the United States and other Powers, and as subordinate in all her rights of full sovereignty to no other power. A messenger has been despatched to our Minister at Mexico, as bearer of the despatch already communicated to the Senate, and which is to be found in the letter addressed to Mr. Green, and forms a part of the documents ordered confidentially to be printed for the use of the Senate. That despatch was dictated by a desire to preserve the peace of the two countries, by denying to Mexico all pretext for assuming a belligerent attitude to the U. States, as she had threatened to to in the event of the annexation of Texas to the U. States, by the despatch of her Government which was communicated by me to Congress at the opening of its present session. The messenger is expected to return before the 15th of June next, but he may be detained to a later day. The recently appointed Envoy from the United States to Mexico will be sent so soon as the final action is had on the question of Annexation, at which time, and not before, can his instructions be understandingly prepared. JOHN TYLER.

Washington, May 15, 1844.

THE BARGAIN.

The coonites appear to get quite 'rathy' when the Bargain of 1825, between Clay and Adams, is thrown up to them; they foam and fret, and are almost ready to fight their opponents, because they cannot disprove the charge. No wonder the coons get in such a fever, for they well know that Clay was guilty of the damning act, selling himself for the purpose of securing the office of Secretary of State.

The Pennsylvanian on this subject, after stating its belief of the corrupt understanding between Adams and Clay, says: "And why do we believe it? Not because Beverly Carter or any other person said so; but because the fact was proved by the parties themselves. They did the deed and shared the spoil in the face of the whole world—Whether they wrote to each other, or winked at each other, in the arrangement of preliminaries, makes no difference. Mr. Clay and his friends knew that if their force was thrown for Mr. Adams, he would give them the desired appointment. They did so throw their force, and the said appointment was so given. Here was bargain and sale as clear as the light of the sun—a trade and a traffic—the price paid and the goods handed over. The thing admits not of argument or difference of opinion. Beverly Carter's retractions are not worth a rush. Can they affect the fact, the historical fact? There was the seller with the price in his hand, and here was the buyer, with the merchandise under his arm. You, I, and every one saw them.

Is more than this required? We think not; but if others are of a different mode of thinking more is easily attainable. Up to the time of this trade for office, Henry Clay and John Quincy Adams were bitter personal enemies, hating each other with the greatest intensity. It will scarcely be pretended, we should think that this was the reason for their coalition. Kentucky was hostile to Mr. Adams, preferring any body to him, and had instructed her representatives to vote for Andrew Jackson. Was this a sufficient reason for Clay's giving the Presidency to Mr. Adams? And what said Gen. Metcalf, Francis Johnson and David Tremble, Representatives of Kentucky, when bro't to a reckoning for having been, like Mr. Clay, so shamefully treacherous to the people of the State? Why they all declared that they voted for Adams to make Henry Clay Secretary of State;—and Kentucky showed her sense of the matter by giving a large majority against an administration so corruptly formed, and aided in driving it from power.

Mr. Clay was treacherous beyond a peradventure, and treachery to gain an office, will scarcely induce a belief on the part of the observer, that the treachery was committed without a very distinct idea of what was to be the reward, especially as personal and political hostilities on either part had to be sunk, to secure the consummation of the deed."—Cecil Dem.

ROBERT DALE OWEN.—The Lowell Journal, speaking of Mr. Owen, of Indiana, and his colleague, Mr. Pettit, says that "Indiana ought to be ashamed of herself to send men of this stamp to Congress to make laws for the government of a Christian people." Of Mr. Pettit we know nothing, but we know that Mr. Owen is one of the most upright men in the world; and whatever may be his speculative tenets, we know that in practice he is, to say the least, as good a Christian as the editor of the Lowell Journal. No man is more esteemed in Congress than Robert Dale Owen, and no man is listened to with greater attention. His name is never mentioned in connection with any of the rowdy scenes that occasionally occur in the House. We hope to see so excellent a man in higher stations than he has yet occupied, believing that both his talents and his morals are of the most excellent order.—Concord Freeman.

EX-GOVERNORS.—The Tribune says that there were no less than six or eight ex governors among the Vice Presidents of the whig national convention. This is nothing strange, for the veto democrats have manufactured whig ex governors on a pretty extensive scale since 1840.—Buffalo Gazette.

DISCORD IN THE FEDERAL RANKS —EXPECTED BLOW UP.—The coon

leaders are in a predicament. While watching with an intense interest, the efforts of a few men in Congress, who do not agree with Mr. Van Buren in the views taken in his letter in relation to Texas, to procure the nomination of some other man as the candidate of the democratic party, they seemed to have forgotten the situation of their own candicate, until the disunion in their own ranks became apparent even to the most casual observer.

The coons at the South are as deeply interested in the annexation of Texas, as are the Southern democrats. Mr. Clay's letter goes decidedly against the project, without the author being able to give one good reason for the conclusions to which he arrived; Mr. Van Buren's letter, on the contrary, has settled at once and forever, the constitutional question which was raised against the admission of Texas, and he gives strong and convincing reasons why, in consequence of existing commercial relations, it would be wrong to admit that Republic at the present time, into the Union. Under these circumstances, what extreme folly it was, for whiggery to suppose that the democratic party could be divided and partially distracted on this question, without the same reasons operating to convulse whiggery to its very centre.

The demonstration of each day serves but to convince us that an outbreak may soon be expected from Southern whiggery, and we know the coons in this city fear that, if once made, the breach can never be reconciled.

In a few days, Mr. Chappell, a distinguished member of Congress from Georgia, it is understood, will renounce and denounce Clay on account of his Texas letter, and this will be but the beginning of the end. Others will follow in rapid succession, and poor Clay coonery will find in the South but few worshippers.—Ohio Statesman.

From the Cincinnatt Enquirer.

RANK "PIZEN."

"The principal objection," said one of the speakers at the whig meeting on Thursday night, "that we had to the nomination of Frelinghuysen, on the instant of his success, was, that his was a name difficult to rhyme about; but that was soon removed," remarked our orator, with most amiable sang froid, "for before we left Baltimore it had been variously set to tune, and was sung all over the city, and I will give you a specimen," said he:—

"Van Buren he will be rank pizen
To Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen!"

"Poh! poh!" grunted an old coon right under the orator. "Oh! I beg your pardon," blundered the speaker, in most laughable confusion, "I mean,

"Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen
To Van Buren will be rank pizen."

But the mischief was done—the charm was off—the truth was told by mistake—the pizen circulated rapidly through the crowd, and the survivors of the hard cider era, like mad buffaloes in the tall grass, rolled out of the mass toward the "Tell Exchange," and the last we saw of them, they were

Pouring down rank pizen
To drown the name of Frelinghuysen!

We saw a farmer a day or two since who brought a load of oats to market, and disposed of them to a grocery store. In part payment he took some sugar. On pricing it he found that he was obliged to pay about three cents per pound more than he gave for the same quality a year ago, while he sold his oats for less than he received last spring. He could not ascertain, on inquiry, that the tariff had lessened the price of protected articles, or increased that of the products of his farm, as he had been accustomed to read in his whig papers. That man went home with a "flea in his ear," and on reflecting upon the matter will doubtless come to the conclusion that a few facts, and a little personal experience, is worth any quantity of the assertions of demagogues and politicians.—Buffalo Gazette.

BALTIMORE FEDERAL NOMINATION—The National Bank Convention at Baltimore have nominated Messrs. CLAY & FRELINGHUYSEN as their candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency.

It is said that Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN is an anti-duelist and anti gambler. Here we see the old game of 1840 revived. Then they had a TYLER, who was opposed to a Bank, for the purpose of "roping in" the anti-Bank men; now they have taken up Frelinghuysen, a man who never fought a duel, and who don't know much about "poker," with the hope of catching the votes of the moral portion of community. You can't come it gentlemen! The last time you fooled the People was too recent!—Kalida Venture.

Democrats Remember.—That Henry Clay is the same man that defrauded Gen. Jackson out of the Presidency in 1824.

The same man that received as a reward for his treachery, an office worth $6,000 per annum;

The same man that wrote the challenge for Graves, and instigated the duel which lead to the death of Cilley;

The same man that challenged and shot at John Randolph, for "words spoken in debate," although the Constitution, which he had sworn to support, expressively prohibited it;

The same that proclaimed war, pestilence, and famine," as better for the country than the election of the patriarch Jackson.

SECTARIAN BIGOTRY.—We agree with a correspondent that "Sectarian Bigotry" has had the largest share in working out the dreadful calamity that has befallen a sister city. It is the duty of every citizen to discountenance this persecuting spirit. Unless it be speedily allayed, no man can tell whose turn it may be next. The Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists, Presbyterians, Quakers, Universalists, or any other sect, may be singled out to-morrow, their churches burnt, houses pillaged, wives and children turned into the street, insulted and abused, their homes and their all a blazing heap of ruins, if this diabolical spirit of persecution is encouraged.—*N. FORT WAYNE SENTINEL

SATURDAY, JUNE 8, 1844.

FOR PRESIDENT
JAMES K. POLK, OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
GEORGE M. DALLAS, OF PENN.

To Correspondents.—"VOX POPULI," we presume, will fully agree with us that in the present aspect of affairs, it is inexpedient to publish his communication.

[We have not received any papers containing a full account of the proceedings of the Democratic National Convention. Next week we hope to publish the proceedings at length.]

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Democratic National Convention assembled in Odd Fellows' Hall, Baltimore, on the 27th ult. On motion of Gen. Saunders, of N. C., Hendrick B. Wright, of Pa., was appointed Chairman pro tem. and Wm. F. Richie, of Va., Secretary. A committee of one from each State was appointed to report on the certificates of Delegates—Jesse D. Bright was appointed for Indiana. All the States answered to the call except South Carolina. Gen. Saunders moved that the rules and regulations of the Conventions of 1832 and 1835 be adopted for the government of this convention. This gave rise to considerable discussion; one of the rules required a majority of two-thirds of the whole number of votes to nominate the candidates; this was opposed by the friends of Mr. Van Buren, but was finally carried by a vote of 148 to 118—the Indiana delegates voting in the affirmative. The following gentlemen were appointed permanent officers of the convention:

President—Hendrick B. Wright, of Pa.

Vice Presidents—Stephen Emory, of Me., Henry Hubbard, N. H., Henry H. Childs, Mass., Luther B. Hunt, Vt., Olney Ballou, R. I, R. J. Ingersoll, Ct., Samuel Young, N. Y., Joseph Edsell, N. J., J. L Dawson, Pa., James N. Sutton, Del., Wm. Frick, Md., Wm.H. Roane, Va., R. M. Saunders, N. C., J. W. Howard, Ga., B. G. Shields, Ala., Powhattan Ellis, Miss., Thos. L. Williams, La., Nicholas Schumacker, Ohio, Linn Boyd, Ky., Cave Johnson, Tenn., Ethan A. Brown, Ia, James Snow, Ill., Robt. S. Gilson, Mi, J. Coffman, Mo, Wm. H Fulton, Ark.

Secretaries—Wm. F. Richie, of Va., Thomas A. Mitchell, N. Y., George A. Vroome, N. J., Charles A. Bradford, Miss.

The number of delegates in attendance was 266, viz: from Maine 9, New Hampshire 6, Massachusetts 12, Vermont 6, Rhode Island 4, Connecticut 6, New York 36, New Jersey 7, Pennsylvania 26, Delaware 2, Maryland 8, Virginia 53, Georgia 10, Alabama 5, Mississippi 14, Louisiana 2, Tennessee 13, Kentucky 29, Ohio 23, Indiana 12, Illinois 9, Michigan 5, Missouri 8, Arkansas 3. Necessary for a choice 178.

The convention then proceeded to ballot for candidate for President, as follows:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th	5th	6th	7th
Van Buren,	146	127	121	111	103	101	99
Cass,	83	94	92	105	107	116	123
Johnson,	22	33	38	32	29	23	21
Buchanan,	4	9	11	17	26	25	22

On the first four ballots Mr. Van Buren received three votes of the Indiana delegation and Gen. Cass 9; on the 5th, 6th and 7th ballots Mr. Van Buren received 1, and Gen. Cass 11.—Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Woodbury, and Com. Stewart received each one or two scattering votes on the different ballots. The convention then adjourned to Tuesday.

On Tuesday the balloting was continued: on the 8th ballot Mr. Van Buren received 104 votes, Gen. Cass 114, Mr. Polk 44 and Mr. Buchanan 2; on the 9th ballot Mr. Van Buren was withdrawn; Mr. Polk received 231 votes, Gen. Cass 29—majority for Polk 202.

Hon. JAMES K. POLK, of Tennessee, was accordingly declared candidate for PRESIDENT. For Vice President, Silas Wright, of New York, received 258 votes, and Mr. Woodbury 8; and Mr. Wright was declared candidate for Vice President. He was in Washington City, but was notified of his nomination by the Magno-Electric Telegraph, and in the incredible short space of five minutes an answer was received from him declining the nomination! Hon. George M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania, was then nominated for Vice President.

The nomination of Mr. Polk was received with the utmost enthusiasm and cordiality, and as it was so nearly unanimous, he will receive the united support of the democratic party. It is confidently believed that he will carry every southern state. The contest between Mr. Van Buren and Gen. Cass having been so close, and the friends of each showing so little disposition to give way to the other, it is probable that if either had been nominated, he would not have been cordially supported by the adherents of the other. The nomination of Mr. Polk is therefore a most auspicious one, and we have every assurance that under his guidance we shall achieve a glorious and lasting triumph over our adversaries.

So far as we are yet able to judge, Mr. Polk will receive more votes in this county than either Mr. Van Buren or Gen. Cass would. The people are getting tired of old politicians, and are desirous of trying new men. Mr. Clay has been so long before the people, claiming office at their hands, that many of his own party are sick of him, and some have already manifested an intention of deserting him and supporting Mr Polk. The whig leaders [illegible] thunderstruck at [illegible] loudly that Mr. Van Buren was not selected. Their electioneering capital—the lies they had collected for circulation—their standing army and gold spoon humbugs—their whig songs and coon melodies—will all remain a dead stock on their hands; much time must elapse before they can accumulate a new capital sufficient to commence active operations against Mr. Polk. We are sorry for their disappointment, but it cannot now be helped.

Mr. Polk is favorably known throughout the country for the able and impartial manner in which he filled the responsible situation of Speaker of the House during the eventful sessions of 1835, '36, '37, and '38. He was previously chairman of the committee of ways and means, and rendered most efficient aid to the administration of General Jackson during his arduous struggle with the United States Bank. He is a devoted political and personal friend of Gen. Jackson, and probably enjoys his confidence and esteem to a greater extent than any other man in the Union. He has ever been a firm and consistent democrat, and has supported the cause of his party and his country in its darkest hour.

In 1839 he resigned his seat in Congress and became candidate for Governor of Tennessee, and although the state was then Whig, and he had to encounter the most determined opposition from the Bank party, he was elected. In 1841 and again last year he was defeated in the election for Governor, but by a majority vastly reduced from the one given against the democrats in 1840.

In private life Mr. Polk is universally esteemed, and is of a most irreproachable character. In public he is distinguished for his firmness and consistency; respected even by his opponents, for his candor, fairness, and openness; in Congress he was one of the most able, industrious, and indefatigable of members, commanding the admiration of all by his talents and courteous demeanour.—He is destined to be one of the ablest and most popular Presidents our country has ever been blessed with.

The New York Tribune says that Mr. Tyler has declined his nomination, and will throw his influence for Mr. Polk.

Impeachment of the President.—Chancellor Kent, of New York, in reply to an inquiry of Mr. J. H. Raymond, gives his opinion that Mr. Tyler ought to be impeached. He says:—

"I think there can be no doubt that the enormous abuses and stretch of power by President Tyler, afford ample materials for the exercise of the power of Impeachment, and an imperative duty in the House of Representatives to put it in practice."

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

For three or four weeks past we published in our paper a call for a Senatorial Convention to be held in this place, on Saturday, June 1st, to nominate a democratic candidate for the Senate for the counties of Allen, Huntington, Adams, and Wells. At the time appointed, delegates appeared from Huntington and Adams; the Wells delegation was unable to reach here on account of the high waters; and Allen county—we are ashamed to publish it—owing to some unaccountable neglect, had held no county convention, and consequently had no delegates appointed to attend the Senatorial convention.—The Convention adjourned, to meet at Huntington, next Saturday, the 15th inst.

A call has been made for a convention for this county to be held in the court house at this place next Wednesday, to appoint delegates to the Huntington convention. We trust it may be numerously attended, and that no democrat who can possibly make it convenient to attend, will neglect to be present. We owe it to ourselves, and to those delegates who came here last Saturday, to attend to the matter this time in good faith. Some steps will also, we presume, be taken to organize our party in this county—a measure which is evidently much needed, as we do not know of any county in the State in which the democratic party is so thoroughly disbanded at this time, as our own county; although there can be no doubt that a majority of the citizens are democratic. There would be no use now in trying to find out who is to blame for this state of things; but as we all can see that it is wrong, and that a necessity exists for better management hereafter, we trust all true democrats will now unite to remedy their former negligence.

The meeting was opened by appointing Capt. J. Darrow, of Huntington, President, and John McConnel, of Adams, Vice President, and Edward F. Colerick, Secretary.

On motion of L. Williams, Esq, it was ordered that there be a Democratic Central Committee appointed, which committee consist of one in each of the counties composing this senatorial district—Whereupon, the President appointed Joseph Sinclear, of Allen, Samuel Decker, of Wells, Samuel S. Mickle, of Adams, and Joseph Wiley, of Huntington, said committee.

On motion of L. Williams, Esq, the convention adjourned to meet at Huntington on Saturday the 15th inst.

On motion,

Resolved, That the proceedings be signed by the President and Secretary, and published in the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

J. DARROW, Pres't.

E. F. COLERICK, Sec'y.

Who is Mr. Polk?—We have heard this question often asked by whigs since Mr. Polk's nomination. We think their ignorance must be affected, or else their memories are remarkably treacherous. Mr. Polk was the Speaker of the House of Representatives whom Mr. Clay, the great Whig Dictator, with his usual courtesy, decorum, and love of order, addressed in the following gentlemanly strain, when he gave a decision on a point of order contrary to the dictator's supreme will:—"Go home, G—d d—n you; go home, sir, where you belong, G—d d—n you!" Perhaps they may now recollect who Mr. Polk is. Can they tell us who Mr. Clay is? Is he the pious and moral man who used the above language to the presiding officer of the American Congress? Is he the man whom it is expected the moral and religious part of community—men who do not usually attend the polls—will vote for, because a Mr. Frelinghuysen, a very pious man, is nominated to run on the same ticket?

The Weather.—The weather still continues wet in this part of the country, and the prospect of the crops is any thing but promising.

☞ In the Southern papers we learn that in Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana the season has been unusually dry and every thing is suffering from the drought.

The Methodist General Conference, now in session in New York City, has devoted much of their time to the discussion of Slavery. Bishop Andrews, it appears, has become, in right of his wife, the owner of some slaves; the New England methodists object to his holding such property, and he is unable or unwilling to emancipate them. This has given rise to a long and acrimonious discussion, in which it seems to us, that some of the speakers showed more zeal and warmth in support of their respective views, and less regard for the feelings and motives of those who differed with them, than was becoming in a religious assemblage. The language used by many—the sarcasm and invective indulged in—and the unyielding spirit manifested—appear to us decidedly out of place. The discussion has not been a whit more temperate or conciliating than discussions on the same exciting subject in Congress. The abolitionists wish to depose Bishop Andrews, and the Southern men threaten to divide the Conference,—to secede from the General Conference—or to establish an independent one in the South. If that should be done we may expect to see a very pretty scramble for the spoils. At our latest advices the subject was not disposed of, nor was there any indication that the ill-feeling engendered was subsiding.

TYLER NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Tyler national convention assembled in Calvert Hall, Baltimore on Monday, May 27th. Mr. Shaler of N. York was nominated Chairman. After some considerable debate the convention was organized by appointing J. W. White of Connecticut, President, and a full list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. A resolution offered by Dr. Kreider of Ohio, nominating John Tyler for President, was carried by acclamation. A committee of five was appointed to inform Mr. Tyler of his nomination, and after some other unimportant business, the convention adjourned to Tuesday morning.

From the Baltimore Patriot—Tuesday.

This assemblage of "disinterested patriots" assembled this morning in Calvert Hall, in pursuance of the adjournment of yesterday.

After a National air by the Band, the body was called to order by the President, and the members were requested to be seated and take their hats off.

The President asked further time to name the Committee to draft an address to the people of the United States, and stated that he would report the names of the National Central Committee at Washington—Request granted.

Mr. ST. JOHN, of New-York then addressed the Convention, and contended that the Tyler party did not consider themselves severed from the great Democratic party, & that the object for which they had assembled was not to distract, but to secure the triumphant success of the principles of the Democracy, and suggested that the Convention should not nominate a candidate for the Vice Presidency, but that the name of John Tyler alone, as a candidate for President, should be "sent down" to the Loco-Foco National Convention, and modestly intimated that if that body would "adopt" Tyler as a candidate for President; the Captain's friends would graciously permit the regular "Democracy" to name the candidate for Vice President; and then the gentleman from New York, without offering any resolution, took his seat.

No member rising to speak,

Mr. SMITH, of Ohio, was called for from various parts of the room; that gentleman took the stand and made a "flaming" "Tyler and Texas" speech, introducing a number of very good anecdotes. The speech was received by the Convention in a spirit corresponding with the "blood" of the speaker.

The committee to nominate a candidate for the Vice Presidency, then appeared and reported the following preamble and resolutions, which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Tyler Democratic National Convention have nearest their hearts the success of the great principles of Democracy, in the coming Presidential contest; therefore, to this end be it

Resolved, That this committee recommend the appointment of a National Nominating Committee of seven persons by the President of the Convention, whose duty it shall be to report a candidate for the Vice Presidency through the public papers, as soon as practicable, and that this committee be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

A resolution was then offered that the proceeding of the Convention be published in all the papers of the Union friendly to Tyler, and in pamphlet form, and that the names of all the members of the Convention be published in connection with the proceedings. The resolution was then unanimously adopted.

Mr. ARMSTEAD, of Virginia, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the friends of JOHN TYLER be requested to assemble in their respective States on the 4th of July, or as soon thereafter as convenient, to frame Electorial Tickets.

After a few closing remarks from the President and nine cheers for 'Tyler and Texas,' the Convention adjourned sine die. So endeth the 'farce.'

ADAMS COUNTY DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

On the 25th day of May, a meeting of the Democracy of the county of Adams, in the State of Indiana, was held at the Court House in said county, for the purpose of responding to the call for a Senatorial Convention, State Convention, and the nomination by the Democracy of Jay county of a candidate for Representative for the District composed of said counties, &c.

The meeting was called to order by the appointment of Samuel L. Rugg, Chairman, and Dr. William Trout, Secretary.

On motion of Samuel S. Mickle, Esq, a committee of five was appointed by the Chair, to report to the meeting a Preamble and Resolutions expressive of the views of the meeting, touching the business before it; and Alexander Fleming, John Lemasters, James Patterson, Stephen S. Rugg and Samuel Eley, were appointed said committee, who after a short retirement reported the following Preamble and Resolutions, to-wit;

Whereas, The time is at hand when in the course of public affairs it becomes the Democracy of the Nation to be on the alert and [illegible] to secure the triumph of their principles, by the election of men to the high and important stations in the State and Nation, whose integrity to those principles is above suspicion, to the end that the greatest amount of human happiness may be secured to the greatest portion of our fellow men. Therefore,

Resolved, That this meeting earnestly recommend to the Democracy of this county to immediately organize themselves in the manner that has been attended with signal success in other counties, and "do battle" nobly and fearlessly in the great cause of civil liberty, in opposition to that party whose Chief proclaims that if they cannot have black slaves they must have white ones, for they cannot cut their own firewood, black their own shoes, and that their wives and daughters cannot work in the kitchen.

Resolved, That as Democrats of the "great family," we will act as a "band of brothers" in the coming struggle—making use of all honorable and fair means to secure the triumphant election of the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President of the United States.

Resolved, That for the more triumphant success of our principles in the Councils of the Nation, it becomes us to elect a Democratic Senator and Representative from this Senatorial and Representative District, on account of the approaching election of U. S. Senator in the place on Hon. A. S. White.

Resolved, That we heartily respond to the call for a Democratic Senatorial Convention to be soon held at Fort Wayne, and that we appoint two delegates from each township to represent this county in said convention.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the great efforts of the whig party to carry the Northeastern part of this State in the approaching elections, by making a Salt River of Fort Wayne, calls for corresponing efforts on the part of the Democracy to resist the effects of the concentration of their defeated chieftains in that quarter.

Resolved, That it is the choice of this meeting that L. P. Ferry, Esq, should be nominated as a candidate for Senator at the approaching Senatorial Convention, leaving, however, the choice of the candidate otherwise to the convention; and that we unanimously pledge ourselves to suport for Senator the nominee of that convention.

Resolved, That the entire Democracy of this county be requested to consider themselves delegates to attend the Young Men's State Convention to be held at Indianapolis on the 17th day of June next.

Whereas, The Democracy of the county of Jay, late in convention assembled, have nominated Mr. Robert Huey as their candidate for Representative to the General Assembly for this District, and respectfully ask us to concur in said nomination—therefore,

Resolved, That we fully and freely concur in said nomination—that we will give it our undivided support, and that we will use all honorable means to secure the election of Mr. Huey to that important station.

Resolved, That our faithful sentinel on the "watch tower," Hon. Andrew Kennedy, is more and more deserving of our confidence for his resistance to the system of unjust taxation which has been sought to be fastened upon the country by the whig party in Congress, to-wit: "The Protective Tariff System."

Resolved, That we throw back with contempt the hocus pocus by which the whig party have attempted to prove to us that taxes levied and collected beyond the necessities of the Government are a "positive good to the people taxed."

Resolved, That the central committee be authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur in their own body, or in the delegates appointed by this meeting to attend either of the conventions.

Said committee reported the gentlemen whose names follow as delegates to attend the Senatorial Convention, to-wit: Michael Rork, John G. Yaeger, sen, Timothy Coffee, Alexander Fleming, Stephen S. Rugg, Andrew Doherty, George Caskey, Solomon Shepp, Benjamin J. Brittson, David Shower, Stanly Stansbury, Andrew Scoles, John McConnel, John Eley, Jacob Abnet, John Belt, Josiah Crawford, Isaac wheeler, Geo. French, Daniel Miller, Benjamin Brown, Peter Kyser, John Grim, and Alexander Stewart.

The persons whose names follow were reported as delegates to represent this county in the Young Men's State Convention, to wit: Enos Mann, B. F. Blossom, Sam'l L. Rugg, David Irwin, Benj. B Winans, Samuel Sacket, Samuel S. Mickle, Benjamin Fraule, John Crawford, Wm. Brown, Lot French and Samuel Steele.

Which report was unanimously concurred in by the meeting.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by its officers and a copy forwarded to the editor of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, with the request that they be published.

The meeting then adjourned without day.

SAM'L L. RUGG, Ch'n.

MEETING TO FORM A BIBLE SOCIETY.

The friends for the circulating of the Bible to the destitute in this Western country, held a meeting at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening last. Allen Hamilton, Esq., arose and nominated Col. Nathaniel A. Woodward as Chairman of the meeting, which was consented to. The meeting was then opened with prayer by Rev. Charles Beecher; after which Peter P. Bailey was appointed Secretary.

Rev. W. C. Anderson stated the objects of the meeting, which were to organize a Bible Society, auxiliary to the American Bible Society, to collect funds and kepp a Depository of Bibles at this place sufficient to supply every family of this and the counties with a copy, without note or comment.

A resolution was then passed, that this meeting proceed to organize a "Bible Society" for the distribution of the Bible.

Doctor H. P. Ayres presented a copy of a Constitution for the government of such societies, which was read, debated, and with some amendments, adopted as the Constitution of the Allen County Bible Society.

The following persons were then chosen as officers of this Society for the ensuing year: Allen Hamilton, President; G. R. Hartman, Peter P. Bailey, Vice Presidents; Dr. H. P. Ayres, Secretary; R. W. Townley, Treasurer; Rev. S. R. Bull, Sam'l Hanna, H. Rudisill, Nathaniel A. Woodward, F. A. Tyler, Directors.

A list was then circulated and a considerable sum of money subscribed for the furtherance of the objects of the Society, and further aid is respectfully solicited from all who are friendly to this cause. Rev. W. C. Anderson made some remarks upon the necessity of immediate and continued action by the Society, and that the Executive Committee be held strictly responsible for all their doings. He hoped to see, before the year expired, a deposit of 500 or 1000 Bibles at Fort Wayne, and that all who were destitute should have a supply of the Word of God.

The meeting then adjourned after devotional exercises by the last named Reverend gentleman. N. A. WOODWARD, Ch'n,

PETER P. BAILEY, Sec'y.

LATE FROM TEXAS.

"The division of the Mexican army under the command of Gen. Wall, was strengthened just before our commissioners left Metamoras. It is stated that the Mexican army has recently been increased, and was in a better condition than it had been for several years previous. It will be seen also in the letter of instructions of Bocanegra to Gen. Woll, that orders had been issued to that commander to prepare for war, in case the negotiations [the armistice of Mexico and Texas] should fail. He had previously received a remittance of $180,000, accompanied by orders to equip a squadron of cavalry to make a sudden irruption into the centre of Texas. Santa Anna, therefore, may have intended, in case the armistice signed by our commissioners, should not be approved by President Houston, to authorize Gen. Woll to make a sudden irruption into Texas with a squadron of cavalry, create an alarm of invasion, and by this means intimidate the people of Texas so that they would at once acknowledge the sovereignty of Mexico, to avoid the evils of a protracted war.—The negotiation for annexation would thus be effectually broken off unless the treaty had been previously ratified. Whatever were his intentions, however, he has been completely circumvented by President Tyler. For, as we have before stated, the American Executive has given him official notice that any act of hostility committed by Mexico against Texas, will be regarded as an act of hostility against the United States, and will be treated accordingly."

"Not a little dissatisfaction prevails in Texas, so we learn verbally, in relation to the turn annexation has taken in this country. Many of the Texans appear now to regret that they did not attempt to 'strike a bargain' with Great Britain, instead of offering themselves to the United States.

MINISTER TO MEXICO.—On the 4th instant, as appears by the published correspondence, the Secretary of the Navy ordered the steamer Union to proceed to New Orleans, and to be at that port between the 20th and 25th of this month, and take on board Governor Shannon, Minister to Mexico, and convey him as speedily as possible to Vera Cruz. The letter also stated that Governor Shannon had been requested to advise the commander of the Union, what day he will be in New Orleans.

Six days after the above was written, the Secretary of the Navy again writes to the commander of the Union, under the date of May 10th, and in which he says, "the President of the United States having determined to send no Minister at present to Mexico, you will consider the order addressed to you on the 4th instant, to proceed to New Orleans, as revoked."

To us it does seem that, if ever a minister was needed at Mexico, the present is the time. Our relations with Mexico are of a threatening aspect, & we should think Governor Shannon ought to be on the ground to make such explanations as may be needed to prevent an unnecessary rupture between the two Republics.—Ohio Statesman.

Some of the Whig papers in New York have been in the habit of calling the Democrats "barn burners." The latter may justly retaliate by giving those Whig blackguards the title of "Church burners."—State Sentinel.

Mr. Frelinghuysen, though an estimable man, is firmly wedded to all the old federal notions and doctrines. He has not one principle in common with the democracy of the country upon political subjects. First and foremost, he was one of the most unscrupulous partisans and eulogists of Biddle in his warfare upon the popular institutions of the country, and most active in his opposition to Gen. Jackson, and his patriotic efforts to rid the nation of the monster which was fast dragging our people down to [illegible] the instrumentality of its [illegible] power. [illegible]

"A BRAND SNATCHED FROM THE BURNING."

Among the sickening scenes lately enacted in Philadelphia there is one fact which we have seen mentioned that is worthy of all praise. The article which commenced it, we are sorry to say, is misleading, and we can only give the facts as we recollect them. The Quakers, and many Protestants of other denominations, in Philadelphia, have thrown open their houses to the Catholic priests and Catholic families whose dwellings were burned by the mob. Many Protestants have expressed a willingness to contribute largely to the erection of a new Church in the place of Augustine but with the understanding that it is not to be on the same spot, for they wish the blackened walls, like those of the Convent near Boston, to stand until they crumble to pieces, as a monument to the infamy of those who participated in its burning.

This shows that a redeeming spirit is abroad in the land; that no persecution for religious belief will hereafter be allowed.—Would that they had thus resolved before the country was disgraced by the late riot.—Ohio Statesman.

AN APT ILLUSTRATION.—The published account of the proceedings of the Whig ratification meeting at New York on the 6th inst. has the following paragraph.

"Mr. Sparks, of Louisiana, made some pleasant remarks, which he concluded with a eulogium on the character and principles of Henry Clay. He said that in Clay and Frelinghuysen the whig party have a Moses and an Aaron; and that they are now on the summit of Pisgah, looking over into Canaan, where one effort more would assurdly bring them into the land of promise. (Great cheering.")

Mr. Sparks has omitted the most striking part of the illustration—that Moses never reached the promised land. He was only permitted to "look over into Canaan."—Cin. Enq.

MUSIC.—There is to be music at the Young Men's Clay Club in Fort Wayne, and there will be goslins to perform it, and donkies to listen. Anxious mothers will have the fidgets for their sonnies who may be out!—Goshen Democrat.

☞ LIVER COMPLAINTS of billious climates arise from the same causes which produce Fever and Ague, and are cured with the same certainty by Dr. Osgood's INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. Even after the liver has become much enlarged and tender upon pressure, it is in a few weeks restored to its natural size, soreness and pain in the side relieved, with such general improvement as denotes returning health.

The above highly valuable preparation may be found at the store of Dr. L. BEECHER, agent for the proprietor.

We are requested to announce ALEXANDER McCULLOCH as a candidate for Associate Judge of Allen county.

Mr. Tigar:—Please to announce ROBERT STARKWEATHER, of Lake Township, as a candidate for Associate Judge, and oblige

PROSPECTUS FOR

The Indiana Staats-Zeitung.

THE undersigned takes this opportunity to inform the German population of Indiana, that he intends to publish at Indianapolis a paper in the GERMAN LANGUAGE, to be called the

Indiana Staats-Zeitung.

The German citizens of Indiana have been long in need of a paper which could inform them on subjects connected with the political history of the country, with the great principles of true democracy, and especially the wants and interests of the state of Indiana. Although the paper will be dedicated to the defence of the principles and measures of the great democratic party, nevertheless all parties shall be privileged to insert in the Staats-Zeitung decent articles in defence of their principles so that a fair opportunity is given to the German inhabitants of the state of Indiana to compare the doctrines of the different parties, and to judge which of them is promoting the best interest and welfare of the country. The public will readily appreciate the importance of such a paper, when they consider the number of Germans in the state of Indiana, and the utter inability of most of them to obtain that information which is absolutely necessary to a proper use of the elective franchise.

The undersigned having been eight years an editor of democratic papers flatters himself to be able to satisfy all those who wish the great democratic principles of equal rights explained in a clear and appropriate manner, & he hopes therefore, that he shall receive such aid from the public in general as will enable him to persevere in his undertaking.

The paper will appear on the 1st of May, provided the necessary number of subscribers should be obtained, and continued weekly. The price will be $2 00 per year; and $1 00 for six months must be advanced.
